

County Police Ass'n. Presents Pictures Of Royalty To Council

Large pictures in color of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh were presented to Newmarket and Aurora councils Monday night by the York County police association. A large number of officers from distant points in the county, from Georgina to the city suburbs, attended for the presentation.

T. A. M. Hulse, Aurora, an honorary member of the association, was the spokesman. The officers present represented police forces in municipalities of York and the York County police force.

"The pictures are most appropriate to hang in the council chambers," said Mr. Hulse. "They are reminders of the ties between this country and the Empire."

"Our link with the Empire is a symbol of law and order maintained. The link between the police association and the council shows that both groups are devoted to the best interest of the municipality and both of them, in their ways, represent that same law and order," he said.

"The general attitude towards policemen has changed," he said. "Children now look up to the community police officer where, as in my youth a 'cop' was something to be avoided," said Mr. Hulse.

"Since the coronation will be next year, the association decided it had sufficient money to

676 IN ACCIDENT PLAN

A total of 676 pupils are participating in the public schools accident fund which was set up by the school board recently. Teachers have received the fee of 50 cents from each of the pupils. There are 888 students in the schools this year. The fund takes care of doctor and hospital expenses resulting from injuries on school property.

North Gwillimbury To Continue Appeal Court Into Fourth Day Mon.

After a three-day session this week, hearing 163 appeals by property owners against their 1952 assessment, the court of revision for North Gwillimbury, chaired by George Lamont, adjourned until 10 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 24.

Thirty decisions were handed down yesterday, Dr. Winston S. Mahon, Kewick, being the last until court reconvenes. The assessment on his was "sustained" as were 23 others. Toronto's mayor, Allan A. Lamport, was among them.

The hearings were over when the court recessed for lunch and when the court met again, chairman Lamont made a motion to "lower, all the ones raised this year, down to where they were in 1951 and to leave the assessments reduced in this year's assessment, down where they were put." He added, "until we get equalization uniform we are in no position to judge."

Assessment commissioner Ted Anderson remonstrated and said, "Will I get a chance to prove these assessments?" He pointed out that the suggestion in the motion, if carried through, would be illegal.

Bruce McMullen, a member of the court, said that although most of the appeals were based on the fact that assessments were altered after the township had been completely re-assessed by a highly recommended expert, he was quite aware of the heavy task that Mr. Anderson had as assessment commissioner. Mr. McMullen said he felt that they were sitting on the court of revision to do a job and that they should do it. The remainder of the court agreed with Mr. McMullen and Mr. Lamont's motion was not seconded.

The court then proceeded to hear commissioner Anderson's evidence.

Members of the court of revision are chairman George Lamont, John King, Bruce McMullen, Clarence Crittenden and Allan Stiles.

Charges by Mrs. Dorothy Mathewson, Toronto, that assessment on her cottage was tripled in an effort to force her out of the community because she is Jewish, were denied by township officials.

Last August, large groups of ratepayers cottagers demanded council change the dates of nomination and election days to Saturdays so city people could get to the lake to vote. A few of the ratepayers threatened to put up a slate of cottage owners for council and vote present councillors out of office.

Nomination day this year will be held this Friday at 1 p.m. and elections 10 days later, Monday, Dec. 1. A by-law passed in 1940 states the polls should be open until 7 p.m.

Township officials expressed surprise at Mrs. Mathewson's charges of racial discrimination.

"There is absolutely nothing behind those charges," said Deputy Reeve R. J. Pollock. "The assessment works separately from council and is not under our jurisdiction."

Rug Made By Late Mrs. Stephens Highlight Of Community Bazaar

The Newmarket Community bazaar, an unusual project in that it is the combined effort of more than a dozen organizations, once again drew a capacity crowd when presented in the Newmarket Town Hall on Friday, Nov. 14. Variety and quantity were greater than at past bazaars with the craftsmanship of the exhibitors remaining at its previous high standard.

Presented for the fourth consecutive year under the auspices of the Newmarket Handcraft group, the bazaar lived up to its reputation for fine workmanship in many fields. The highlight of the display was a hooked rug, the work of the late Harriet Stephens.

of the design were exceptionally fine. Mrs. Stephens had sketched their cottage in the Haliburton Highlands. This original design was used for her rug.

The bazaar included the work of many individuals and organizations. There were 13 separate booths which displayed home made candy and baking, children's wearing apparel, woven and knitted articles, leather work, shell jewelry, ceramics, novelties, fancy work, toys including dressed dolls and stuffed animals, custom gift wrapping and a wide assortment of aprons and other bazaar fare.

The crowds within the building visited the booths, admired the displays and through their purchases helped to make the bazaar financially successful for all participating. Suggestive of the baby clinic at York County Health unit was the gathering of carriages and prams near the entrance.

PLAN LEVY SYSTEM FOR SUPPORT OF FARM FEDERATION

King township council agreed to levy a quarter mill rate on the municipality with a minimum of $500 when a deputation from the township branch of the federation of agriculture, headed by vice-president Frank Beatty, asked that the levy system be adopted to replace the annual grant given to York County federation of agriculture. Reeve Elton Armstrong said if the levy amounted to more than $500, the federation would benefit by the total levy. Because council has affirmed the 1953 assessment roll, the levy system will not be possible until 1954.

"We know what we budget for but we do not want to ask annually for grant," said Mr. Beatty. When mention was made that the levy system might bring up appeals, W. J. Buchanan, secretary of the York County federations, said of the three townships, Whitechurch, Markham and Vaughan which have taken on the levy system, only one appeal was made against it.

"I do not see why every home owner is not assessed. They live in a farming community and why not help the farmers?" said Bert Palmer. President L. J. Glass pointed out that a quarter mill levy was the least the branch could request.

Others of the deputation were Leonard Hall and Gilbert Ferris. The annual meeting of the King township branch will be held at King City on Nov. 25.

OPTIMIST GOVERNOR VISITS TWO CLUBS AT TUESDAY MEET

Governor W. T. "Army" Armstrong, St. Catharines, paid a visit to the combined meeting of Newmarket and Keswick Optimists, at the King George Hotel Tuesday night. The Governor was introduced by Lieut. Gov. John C. Hamilton of the Newmarket club.

A most unusual and inspiring talk was given by the Governor on "The Cost of Living." He also spoke to the members on Optimism and their duty to their club, to their district and to international. At this meeting six new members were initiated.

Sgt.-Arms Rod Eccobichon kept the meeting rolling with the usual fines. Several skits were put on by the two clubs. Ken Davies of the Keswick club rendered two fine songs.

Clayton Purdy of the Keswick club was the lucky winner of a very lively rooster, in the draw. President Roy Pollock of the Keswick club won the consolation prize, an oversized turnip.

Planner Art Hurst did an excellent job of arranging two songs which were sung by the "Sorrowful Quintette" featuring several original verses about members of the two clubs.

REPAIR HALL ROOF

A repair job will be done on the town hall roof shortly. Council approved of the property committee's recommendation to spend $494 on the work. An asphalt and asbestos mix will be applied to the roof; in the spring it will be covered with aluminum paint. Jos. Dales, chairman of the committee said the tower will be taken off the town hall and the front gable will be repaired.

FARM PHOTO WINNER

Gordon Cole, R. R. 1, Queensville, was the winner of last week's farm photo contest in the Era and Express. Mr. Cole was born and raised on his own farm where his father and grandfather lived. His grandfather was the first settler on the land. The farm is located east of Queensville, on the fifth concession of East Gwillimbury.

CANTATA

A program of fine music is being held in the Christian Baptist church this Sunday evening, Nov. 23, at 7 o'clock. The choir of the church will present Maunders' beautiful cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace." Soloists will be Vera Belugin, soprano; Michael Steele, baritone; Mrs. Eugene Cane, director of music.

BEAVERS NEED TOYS

The Busy Beavers, a group of young boys under the direction of Harold Tite, are busy rebuilding broken toys to give hospitals, institutions and the Lions club basket fund for Christmas. The Beavers hope to complete 500 toys for this Christmas but are short of used toys to work on. Residents are asked to phone 853 if they have old toys not being used.

Mrs. Anna Sutherland, age 104, Newmarket's oldest resident and the oldest person living in York County, underwent a serious operation in St. Michael's hospital in Toronto Tuesday. It is her first serious illness and hospital officials say her condition is satisfactory.

Mrs. Anna Sutherland, At 104, Well After Serious Operation

Mrs. Anna Sutherland, 104, Newmarket's oldest resident, and believed to be the oldest patient in the history of St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, underwent a serious abdominal operation on Tuesday and came through it like a woman half her age.

Seriously ill for the first time in her life, she was taken to hospital and although slightly nervous, hospital authorities said she was unafraid as she was taken into the operating room. Hospital authorities said that her condition is satisfactory but that it would take a week before they would know if she would make a complete recovery. Attendants who were checking records believe that she is the oldest patient in the hospital's history.

"She's a wonderful patient," a nurse said. "She has the use of all her faculties."

FIVE CLASSES IN NIGHT SCHOOL

"Organization of a night school in Newmarket has been completed with five classes underway for the past two weeks," reported J. W. Lockhart, principal of the Newmarket high school to the November 18 meeting of the Newmarket-Sutton Area high school board. The classes were approved by the board which appointed Mr. Lockhart as night school principal.

Registration for the adult education classes included: shorthand, 20; bookkeeping, 18; English for New Canadians, 14; typing (a), 27, and typing (b), 28. The instructors are Robert Dick, Harold Garrett and William Blackshaw.

Classes meet twice weekly on Monday and Wednesday at the Newmarket Collegiate. Mr. Lockhart said that a twenty-weeks' course of instruction would be attempted this year. Next year a more elaborate set-up would be attempted, he said.

POTTAGEVILLE SEEKS PORTABLE ROOM FOR EXTRA PUPILS

Because S.S. 13, at Pottageville has more students than its one-room school can accommodate, the school board on behalf of the ratepayers, has requested King township council to ratify an application for a debenture issue of $7,500 to acquire and equip a portable classroom.

Council gave a second reading to a by-law at a recent session which will be forwarded to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval prior to the third and final reading by council.

The school has an enrolment of 54 pupils at present, taught by Robert Meredith and George Edwards, Schomberg, on a staggered basis of classes. The attendance has gone as high as 60, Mrs. Hugh Hamilton, secretary treasurer said, and if the population of the district continues to increase, the two room building would be taxed. The $7,500 figure would also allow for improvement to school grounds.

ANNUAL APPEAL MADE FOR LIONS CHRISTMAS FUND

The Christmas season is fast approaching, a reminder that there are a number of children less fortunate than the majority.

They could miss a happy and merry Christmas if it were not for the Lions club of Newmarket Christmas Basket Fund which is so strongly and generously supported by the industrialists, merchants, school bodies and citizens of Newmarket and surrounding townships.

The Lions club has again undertaken to look after the packing and distribution of the parcels on Christmas Eve. The names of those receiving baskets are taken from the files the club has compiled during its service work, supplemented by names recommended by various social agencies in the district and individual members.

The lists are checked with other groups to avoid duplication and purchasing is done in terms of each family's requirements. The Lions club again asks financial and moral support; every contribution, no matter how small, is welcome.

Contributions for the fund will be acknowledged and may be made through any of the Newmarket banks, The Era and Express office or any member of the Lions club.

BUS LOSES WHEELS, ONE SMASHES INTO RIDGES RESTAURANT

Twenty high school girls escaped injury Tuesday when the dual wheels of the bus they were riding in came off north of the Bond Lake curve near Oak Ridges.

Morrill Johnson, Sharon, bus driver, brought the bus safely to a stop. One wheel fell at the roadside but the other rolled over 500 feet, crashed through a plate glass window at Bill Stundens' Log Cabin restaurant and smashed stools, damaged a gum-vending machine and littered the restaurant with broken glass. One of the nuts from the wheel was found inside the gum machine.

Hold Nomination Meeting Town Hall Tomorrow Night

If election rumors during nomination week mean anything, it is possible that Newmarket will have its first mayoralty race since 1947. While the rumors may not have become facts after the nomination meeting, to be held at the town hall tomorrow night, it is likely that there will be more than one nomination for the mayor's office.

A probability is the nomination of Mrs. Violet Robinson MacNaughton who is serving as a councillor on the 1952 town council. Mayor Vale's intentions are not known to be definitely one way or another.

The mayor has been predicting for the past couple of years at least that he will be retiring from municipal service. At previous nomination meetings it has almost become a custom that the mayor be elected by acclamation.

Whether Mayor Vale will add onto his long record of service to the municipality is worth a contest, is a matter for speculation. Mayor Vale has given no hint as to what he will do this year, nor has he any other year, the day before nominations.

A safe guess is that there will be no contests for the reeve or deputy-reeve. Reeve Arthur Evans continues as an active servant on council and has given no indication that he will not continue to offer his services to Newmarket.

Deputy-Reeve Herb Gladman, elected by a special vote only two months ago, can be expected to be elected by acclamation. There has been no indication that the candidates who ran against him in the special election in the fall, will try again.

Mrs. MacNaughton has served on council a year. The previous year she missed being elected by a few votes; in a recount of ballots she contested the next highest candidate, with the curious result that she won more votes than one of the other elected candidates but not more than the candidate she was contesting who also gained in the recount. Mrs. MacNaughton has been a life-long resident of Newmarket.

Although predictions are often wide of the mark, it is not likely that there will be many more candidates for council seats than the required number. It is probable that all present councillors will be nominated and will qualify.

Only one resident who has not served on council has stated that he will be a candidate. He is Eddie Wrightman who was an unsuccessful candidate last year.

Dark horses may come out in the open tomorrow night but it would seem from present indications that there will be no unusually wide choice of candidates when election day comes around. There are rumors that changes will be made on school

None of the present village trustees at King are expected to stand for election this year. Crawford Wells, having been in office over 20 years is not standing for nomination and William Carson who has served eight years says that younger men should take office. Donald Findlay resigned at the first of the month.

Bible Printed In 800 Languages 1,000 Yet To Do, Says Worker

Rev. L. F. Geary, B.A., L.Th., newly appointed rector of St. James' church, Sutton, was the speaker at the Newmarket Bible society's annual public meeting which was held in St. Paul's parish hall on Sunday, Nov. 16.

The sound film, "The Bible on the Table," was presented by Rev. Egerton Young, Upper Canada Bible society, who outlined the work of the society.

Arthur Evans, president of the Newmarket society, presided over the meeting. A capacity audience of all ages and from all the churches in the community joined in the annual service.

Mr. Young said that in 1954 the British and Foreign Bible society will observe 160 years of translating and circulating the Bible throughout the world. The Upper Canada Bible society has a branch in Toronto and is an auxiliary of the British and Foreign society.

"1954 will be known as Bible Year," said Mr. Young. "A jubilee fund of $250,000 per year for the next three years has been set as the financial objective. The money will be used for new Bible houses in Quebec and overseas, Ukrainian scriptures (Ukrainian is the fourth language in Canada), literacy gospels for millions of new readers, scriptures in modern Braille for the blind, renewal of printing plates,

SPORTS NEWS SHORT

We regret that the demand for space in this issue of the Era and Express has caused the omission of a number of sports reports.

When you think of a small town weekly newspaper office, you might imagine a dusty room with a couple of roll top desks. Spiders spin webs without fear of interruption, you might think. The picture is not entirely true. In our office there is a buzz of activity which, we feel, could be compared to a Reuters or Associated Press news room.

Our tiny editorial room is a glassed-in area, squeezed between the front business office and the job printing area. When the three regular people are at work, it is crowded; when a compositor enters with a batch of galley proofs, it is congested; when five persons are present in this office, we all suffer from claustrophobia.

Last Wednesday morning the job presses were clanking away at top speed outside our door, sending shock waves through the building; people were hurrying about with proofs and copy and everyone seemed to be shouting at one another. The pace was accelerating for press day.

Phones were ringing every minute. We were conversing on the telephone, editing correspondents' copy and sorting mail all at the same time. Everyone was caught up in the tempo.

The office receptionist opened a sliding glass panel, leaned in from the front office and tried not to shout, "There's someone on the phone who wants to know how much is the fee to be a member of the United Nations." The entire place seemed to slow down and become quiet momentarily, then resumed its pace.

We were completely unsatisfied with our own weak, colorless reply, "Sorry, we don't know." We watched her through the glass partition; she was explaining politely to the party that we were very sorry that we were not able to help them out.

Frequent calls like that take us off guard. We might be caught with, "Say, would it be Tuesday or Thursday in Tokyo right now?" or a fellow might call and say, "We're having an argument down here at the plant. Who plays quarterback for the Eskimos? I think it's Smith; Joe here says it's Green."

We are ever conscious of giving good service but feel that we are falling down in supplying on-the-spot information. Every year we keep a radio on during the World Series for phone calls about the scores, part of our regular service.

If it hadn't been for our budget, we would have called Pearson long distance on that U.M. question.

It's a mad business, this newspaper work.

No one likes to be 10 years older than he is. Mr. Tom Birrell's age was publicized in a special section of the Era and Express two weeks ago and it has been pointed out since, not by Mr. Birrell himself, that we had aged him 10 years. We regret this. Such public figures as members of council may turn gray over one of our editorials but there is no excuse for us tacking 10 years onto the age of a prominent citizen. Eagerly, we are ready to note that Mr. Birrell was born in 1899, not in 1889.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

THERE IS HOPE FOR SANTA

Until this week there has been a lack of interest and initiative to promote a Santa Claus parade in Newmarket. A number of citizens expressed disappointment in the fact that nothing yet had been planned. Tuesday night a small but energetic group of businessmen decided that Newmarket cannot let the community children down. With the co-operation of more Main St. businessmen, it is hoped that the organization of a parade will be carried out.

There is some money left over from last year's fund to provide a start. With a little effort, a parade can still be organized. Parades will be held shortly in Mount Albert, Aurora, Sutton and Holland Landing. Let's not let the Newmarket district down, say our enthusiastic friends. All that is needed is a little more enthusiasm from Main St.

REKINDLE THE FIRE

Criticism is a healthy sign of democracy; the day we stop hearing it we will know that we have lost democracy. In a small municipality like Newmarket, citizens have the opportunity to criticize and take their complaints to the very persons who are elected to carry out public affairs. It is every citizen's right to attend a regular meeting of council and point out to all elected members just where they are doing wrong. But few citizens take advantage of the opportunities to do so.

The municipal electors send representatives into office each year, satisfied that they have performed their annual duty to our democratic system of government. But if they expect good government of their community, they have performed only a small function of their duty.

The electors fall down in their duty to ensure good government by forgetting that they must follow through with their vote by insisting that their representatives govern well. After marking their ballots, many citizens wrongly expect that their representatives, once elected, are under the spell of a magic electoral wand which impels them to do no wrong. When the results of their vote turn out to be a disappointment during the ensuing year, they scratch their heads and say, "What a bunch our council is!" The fact that the ballot has not produced what they expected, is beyond their comprehension.

This slight deterioration on the local municipal level has had its effect on civic representatives themselves, tending to produce negative qualities in some examples. Public opinion is not roused so quickly as it was in the 'pioneer' days; people have too many other interests to take up their time and detract their attention from the everyday business of council. As a result, our municipal council too often is out of touch with public opinion simply because public opinion is seldom clearly expressed. We have no ratepayer's association, no chamber of commerce, no planning board. There are no 'voices' to guide council in Newmarket. If there are negative qualities among local representatives, these may be plausible reasons for them.

Our council likes to think that it is doing a good job. Members of our council have been conscientious representatives. They have enjoyed relatively little criticism but that is because criticism is not audibly expressed in Newmarket. In a number of instances, council has found it difficult to make policy decisions because it was not sure of public opinion. One instance was the Main St. project; council finally put it to a vote of the ratepayers. Council lacked the confidence to make a decision because there was no expression of opinion from any representative group such as a ratepayers' association or chamber of commerce.

The fire in municipal politics we often hear about from the old days, needs to be rekindled. Attendance at Newmarket nomination meetings is proof that public interest in municipal affairs is sadly lacking. Tomorrow night another nomination meeting will be held in the town hall to name candidates for the 1953 council, school board and hydro commission. We hope that the citizens who quietly 'griped' about council activities during the past year will feel interested enough to attend the meeting, possibly make a nomination or two and express some lively ideas during the discussion period which follows the candidates' nomination addresses.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

INDUSTRIAL SITES GONE

The county's decision to build a new home for the aged on Eagle St. property offered as a gift by the town of Newmarket, ends the last chance of a new industry locating here in the near future. The Eagle St. property was the last suitable site for a large industrial building within the limits of the town.

It is reported this week that there is a move in Aurora, which also finds itself short of industrial sites, to annex land south of the town in Whitechurch and King townships. Members of Aurora's board of trade are anxious for the annexation of land. The same suggestion for Newmarket has been put forth on this page on previous occasions, as a possible remedy for Newmarket's lack of industrial sites. Newmarket can gain no more large industries unless land is annexed.

NO BETTER IN THE WORLD

(Fort Erie Times-Review)

We who are fortunate enough to have been born in this country all too frequently take its blessings for granted. It is often the part of one who has moved here from a less-favored land to open our eyes.

Consider the case of Area Struyk, a 45-year-old Dutchman who arrived in Canada with barely a cent to his name, and a wife and eleven children to provide for.

Today he owns six farms in the Cochrane district of Ontario; and is reputed to be worth $25,000. The lesson he has to teach is one that could be studied profitably by Canadians from 16 to 60. It is best expressed in his own words:

"Think of it!" he says. "In Holland only a rich man has 100 acres. The soil here! — good, rich soil which nobody seems to want! I can't understand it. The best part is — every time we swing an axe, more land becomes available. It's wonderful soil, there is no better in the world."

There are Canadians who complain about lack of opportunity in this country. There are Canadians who think Canada owes them a living. The truth — as men like Area Struyk are constantly demonstrating — is that there is more opportunity here than anywhere else in the world, including the United States. The real deterrent, so far as the complainers are concerned, is that to grasp it requires initiative and hard work.

ON WORLD RESPONSIBILITY

(Swift Current Sun)

The Chicago Daily Tribune in its November 1st issue jumps on a statement made by L. Dana Wilgress, Canadian undersecretary for external affairs in which he thought that the United States should first of all strive to achieve continental security, secondly to think of extended commitments; likewise Canada's first obligation should be defense of its own territory. The Tribune thinks this "common sense" and it would be welcome if some of Mr. Wilgress' countrymen had a measure of his discrimination and judgment.

Then the Toronto Financial Post got into the argument by reminding the Tribune of 1914 and 1939 . . . "The world knew about the foot-dragging then." Back came the Tribune with this:

"This is the old empire propaganda line that any war in which Britain finds itself is necessarily a war of the United States. The United States has no moral obligation or legitimate security reason for intervening in either war, but Anglophile leadership pushed it in on both occasions. We belonged to no alliance in 1914 or 1939, requiring us to fight. But we did save the British in both of these wars after they had fared badly."

How Stalin must chuckle! At these insane sort of quibblings about whose responsibility is whose.

The historical fact of record is, of course, that the United States while setting itself up as the "arsenal of democracy" didn't declare war until the Japs in their perfidy bombed Pearl Harbor and the United States simply had to fight back or risk an attack on their very continental shores. Canada didn't have to fight in either war. Canada fought to preserve for both the British and Americans — and for Canadians' freedom against would-be world dictators — against the possible loss of liberty and the way of life we all hold so dear. That was a United States responsibility, too, as a democracy.

These newspapers which smear ink in fighting over generalities are doing a disservice to the cause of democracy, and are giving aid and comfort to our enemies, those who are waiting like birds of prey to shackle free people with a "dictatorship of the few" ideology.

We say, cut it out, you are adults and know better.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Dear Boss:

I can see that there is going to be trouble.

I have always been a loyal, diligent conscientious member of the staff here, now haven't I, boss? I ask you, have the interests of this thing which is greater than all of us, this Era, this jewel in a . . . well, have not the interest of the paper been first, always?

We have had our trials and tribulations but they have been swept aside and always it has been onward and upward, to the glories of success!

I am afraid that I cannot carry on with the same spirit, boss. No.

It's that man! You know whom I mean, that new man there at the advertising desk. I tell you, he is undermining my work, the best column in the newspaper. You know it's the only piece of decent literature we have and he, that man, is undermining everything I have been striving to build. Something is going to have to be done, boss. It is he or I, I tell you, it's him or me.

Not being a literary man, one cannot expect too much from him but your favorite correspondent is not up to taking it much longer. The other day, he was messing around with some advertisements, mundane occupation, and he made a reference. I shall never forget it. Oh, the ignominy.

It so happened that he saw something he thought was funny. It was a proof for an R.C.A.F. advertisement. Some proper words were supposed to be filled in the ad. by the compositor but instead of leaving blanks, the mat makers had filled in some fictional names.

This is what the ad. read like: "Here in Blanktown, on suchaday, at suchaplace, Squadron Leader Wingding will be here to give you complete information on what the Air Force offers you . . ."

Of course the proper names were filled in and the ad., which is published for recruiting purposes. It appears on page 12. It was rather witty don't you think. Ex-airmen would get a kick out of it.

But this new man immediately was convulsed with an insane laughter. He couldn't control himself. And his next comment was the killer. He said, "Oh look at that! Jove, that's a good one. It would make a good filler for that Snippets, top right hand corner of the editorial page, wouldn't it?"

That was the first instance. Later in the day he was wandering around with a marked copy asking, "Who's this Snippets Reporter on the editorial page, anyway? Something to do with a cat, isn't it?"

In a conversation with junior, the ace reporter, he said, "This Snippets column; can't see anything funny in it. I wonder why the boss lets that stuff go through anyway?"

So you see boss, he's really trying to undermine me. He's even fussing about decisions by the top brass, you namely.

I am very sorry to have to bring this subject up but after all, it is up to you to make the decision. Something is going to have to be done.

Not that I want to make any threat, boss, but what would you do without me? Just what would you use to fill up this column, this historic piece of space in the right hand top corner of your editorial page? I ask you to dwell on it a bit; think on it and just decide who is your most loyal, devoted, conscientious columnist.

Yours truly,
Ginger.

The Top Six Inches by "Dairy Farmer"

The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair is a tremendous show this year. It is well organized and it is representative of all that Canadian agriculture is and wants to be.

Having it next door to us, year after year, we are apt to take it for granted. In case you wonder about this, just listen to what some of the American guests have to say. Some of their veteran showmen, who have showed cattle for years all over the States will tell you that our fair is the best built and best organized and most attractive show they have ever seen.

We watched some of the show this year and looked for signs to see if the embargo and the absence of American cattle has hurt the show or not. We don't think it has. The numbers were not down and in some breeds, at least a number of small farmer breeders, came out who would otherwise have hesitated to do so.

We talked to a man who judged one of the breeds at this show three years ago. He says he couldn't always find a decent top for a class. Today, three years later, the quality was up, the numbers were up and the number of exhibitors was up.

All day long, hundreds of school children roam around. They come in groups; they usually have pencils and paper with them and whoever had the idea or encouraged it, did about as smart a job of education as could be imagined. These young people will have more appreciation of what farming means in this country as they grow up.

There is hardly a spot that deserves criticism. Food is easily obtained and is good and clean. Parking is smooth and closer. The parking service for those who want to pay for it, is fast and efficient.

And last but not least, it is a very much improved and fast moving horseshow that finishes the day. For our money a horseshow, well organized and well run, is still a spectacle that stirs the blood and the imagination.

This year's show is good. They have finally found a way to do away with time consuming delays. Years ago, we remember leaving the Coliseum at one a.m. and the show would be still on. This is changed. The R.C.M.P. ride is better and more colorful than ever. The international competition has a certain excitement about it that few other forms of entertainment can match.

Well, we aren't looking for a job with the Winter Fair. We only feel that the agricultural community of this country has achieved something very notable and should take the credit for it.

The show is not over yet. There are a few more highlights to come. The Queen's Guineas competition for one, the beef show and so on. Anybody who has worked hard on the farm this fall and can spare the time, should go and try to spend a day at the fair. You will come away tired, worn out, but you will feel very good about it.

Managing 'Church Farm' At Alton

An unusual project involving a Newmarket family has been started by Carlton United church, Toronto. The church has its own farm and managing it are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Starr, formerly of Newmarket.

It is believed that this is the only church in Canada to own its own farm. One year ago, through the generosity of two of its friends, the church came into possession of a 100-acre farm at Alton. Situated in the Caledon Hills district, it is accessible by train and bus from Toronto, 50 miles distant.

The object is to develop this property "as a centre of Christian education, for the deepening of Christian experience, through co-operative living and fellowship in work, worship, recreation and cultural pursuits." The congregation of Carlton United church already has experienced benefit and happiness from the project.

At a recent meeting at the church, when Mr. and Mrs. Starr were present, colored slides of the property in summer and winter were shown.

The soil is light and badly eroded, but production is not the chief concern. The report of the agricultural committee showed that eight acres had been cleared of twitch-grass and five other acres put into condition for use. Seventy-five bags of potatoes had been produced, along with 24 pumpkins, a ton of turnips and 100 pounds of honey from five hives of bees. Four thousand trees and 500 strawberry plants have been planted so far. The farm boasts a house, a cow, 20 chickens and a goat with two kids.

Improvements and renovations to the farm house have been carried out during this first year by work parties from the church. Members of Carlton United church, men, women, boys and girls have shared in painting, wall-papering and maintenance work. Renovations included plumbing, roofing and flooring. A septic tank was installed. Seven cabins were erected and an annex built to the barn will serve as a dining hall.

During the summer, older people, members of Carlton's congregation, enjoyed outings at the farm. A social worker has had a holiday; 160 children have been out; 22 stayed a week. On Labor Day weekend a party of 47 stayed at the farm, working and worshipping with the Christian education committee of the church. On the weekend program were such activities as clearing marshland, digging potatoes and divining for a well.

A smaller stream and part of the Credit River run through one corner of the farm and the boys of the congregation have already dammed a place for a wading pool. A complete swimming pool is in prospect. It is intended also to stock the stream with trout.

There have been many one-day picnics and conferences and many more are planned for the members of Carlton United. The benefits of their newly acquired farm will be shared with the underprivileged. Individual guests will be able to arrange for visits at the farm and those seeking quiet will be welcomed.

Rev. A. E. Collins is the new minister appointed to the Church of the Nazarene, Newmarket.

—Mrs. Howard Morton returned on Sunday evening after spending the week in Falconbridge, being the guest of her sister, Mrs. Norman Cliffe.

TORONTO, N. YORK HUNT

Excellent weather has so far favored Toronto and North York Hunts and as the season draws to a close early in December, the event at Glenville Farms, on Saturday, Nov. 22, should draw a large meet at 11 a.m.

It will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crang, one mile north of Newmarket town line, on the second concession of King township (west of Yonge St.) Mr. and Mrs. Crang invite participants to a Hunt Tea after the meet.

On Wednesday, Nov. 26, Beverly Farm, Yonge St., south of Aurora, will be the scene of a meet at two o'clock in the afternoon.

MOUNT ALBERT BANQUET

Mount Albert ladies, thrice crowned champions of the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' softball league and who went through the past season without a loss to mar their record, will close the books on a successful season next Wednesday as the guests of honor at a banquet in the Mount Albert hall. Turk Broda, ex-Toronto Maple Leaf hockey netminder, will be guest speaker for the occasion. Banquet proceedings get under way at 6:30 p.m.

BANTAMS PRACTICE MON.

The Gorman Rockets, scheduled to carry the Newmarket torch in the North York Bantam hockey league, will stage their initial practice at the arena on Monday, Nov. 24. Practice is from 8 to 9 p.m. All players wishing to try out with the team are asked to report to the arena at 7:30 p.m., says Coach Frank Hollingsworth. Bantam covers players in the 12, 13 and 14 year old group.

John Allen, British actor, stage manager and playwright, will adjudicate Canada's 13 regional drama festivals early next year. Mr. Allen has been active in theatrical circles in England for the past two decades in various capacities and has acted as adjudicator for many festivals. Earlier this year he was chairman of the International Theatre Institute Conference on Youth and the Theatre for U.N.E.S.C.O. in Paris.

EXTEND TROUT SEASON

In the latest issue of the Ontario government services bulletin it is announced that, as an experiment, the season for catching rainbow trout in Lake Simcoe has been extended from November 6 until and including November 30 this year. Only two fish per day may be taken legally, with the minimum length seven inches.

The resort owners, around the lake, who cater to fishermen, have a much shorter closed season than a few years ago.

LADIES' HOCKEY TEAM

It appears likely Newmarket will get into the North York Ladies' hockey league swim. Ned Skead, headman in getting the ladies' hockey team underway, counted an even dozen on hand for the teams' initial practice Monday. Players reporting were Barb Watt, Glena Woodhouse, Evel Wadsworth, Grace Webster, Joanne Beazer, Isobel Rogers, Jeanne MacDonald, Marlene Martin, Marg Woodbridge, Joan Quinn and Terry Reid. Coach Skead plans another practice session next week and hopes to line up an exhibition game with Gord Hare's Keswick girls in the near future.

JUVENILES NEED SPONSOR

Is anyone interested in sponsoring the local juvenile hockey team? There are some 15 to 20 boys raring to go and indications are Newmarket can ice a strong team. The North York Minor hockey league's entry list closes this week. Newmarket must file an entry before next week if it is going to get in the scrap. There's a right-around-home league ready to take them in with Aurora, Stouffville and Richmond Hill, already entered.

GLAD. SPECIALIST TO SPEAK BEFORE HORTICULTURAL SOC.

Leonard Butt, Huttonville, will address a general meeting of the Newmarket Horticultural society on Monday, Nov. 24, 8 p.m., in the school room of Trinity United church. Mr. Butt will illustrate his talk on gladioli.

—Dr. D. J. Bagshaw and daughter Marguerite, Toronto, visited his sister, Mrs. Mary Crowder, on Sunday.

Farm Forum Findings

The Newmarket East forum met on November 10, at the home of Mr. Sheldon Walker, with 19 present. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Herb Wright.

The topic was "Farm Women in Public Life". The discussion leader was Sheldon Walker. The Newmarket Forum decided:

"Women definitely play an important part in public affairs, through such organizations as Women's Institute, W.A. and Home and School association.

"Women who take no interest outside the home are inclined to be very dull company, self-centered and have a narrowed outlook on life. Therefore we feel that women can do a much better job at home if they have outside interests in the community.

"Women should show interest in their husbands' public affairs and it should be the same with the husband in regard to her affairs.

"We agreed that women who have the desire, the ability and are adapted to it, are suited for politics."

On November 17 at the home of Mr. Herb Wright, the subject "Are We Over-mechanized?" was discussed under the leadership of Herb Wright, members concluded:

"We think that the farmers in our neighborhood are mechanized on a sound basis. The majority of the farmers are mechanized according to their needs and income, with the regular line of equipment necessary to farm."

"The best way of solving the problem of expensive machinery would be a small co-operative group or hiring custom work done or else investing in machinery and doing custom work."

The Newmarket East forum has accepted an invitation to visit Mount Albert forum for review night on November 24.

—Mrs. Mary Richardson returned home on Sunday from a six month trip to Great Britain. While there she toured Scotland and visited relatives in Middlesbrough, England.

IN MEMORIAM

COWIESON—In loving memory of a dear mother, Clara Cowieson, who passed away November 18, 1951.
What would we give her hand
to clasp,
Her patient face to see;
To hear her voice, to see her smile.
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again.
Beyond the toll and strife.
And clasp each other's hand once more.
In Heaven, that happy life.
Lovingly remembered by Keith and Irma.

CRYDERMAN—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Arthur Cryderman, who passed away Nov. 17, 1947.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one laid to rest;
In memory's frame I shall keep it.
Because he was one of the best.
Sadly missed by daughter Delilah, son-in-law Wilfred and grandson Calvin.

CRYDERMAN—In loving memory of my dear husband, Arthur Cryderman, who passed away
Nov. 17, 1947.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear; Fond memories linger every day.
Remembrance keeps his near.
Ever remembered by wife Ida.

DRURY—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Bella Drury, who passed away November 17, 1945.
Remembrance is a golden chain Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Ever remembered by husband and family.

PEAT—In loving memory of our dear father, Edward H. Peat, who passed away November 17, 1935.
There is a link death cannot sever.
Love and remembrance last forever.
Joe, Mary, Audrey and families.

WILKINSON—In loving memory of a dear husband, Joseph Wilkinson, who passed away
Nov. 24, 1950.
No one knows the silent heartache.
Only those who have lost can tell.
Of the grief that is borne in silence.
For the husband I loved so well.
Sadly missed by his wife, Dora.
Oak Ridges, a son.

WILKINSON—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Joseph Wilkinson, who passed away Nov. 24, 1950.
We cannot clasp your hand,
father dear,
Your face we cannot see;
But let this little token,
Tell that we still remember thee.
Ever remembered by daughter Myrtle, son-in-law Harvey and grandchildren.

WILKINSON—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Joseph Wilkinson, who
passed away Nov. 24, 1950.
Mere words are inadequate to express our gratitude. To each and everyone who has helped us through these days of sorrow with beautiful flowers, words of sympathy and deeds of infinite kindness, we can only say,

"Thank you so much."

Spitfires Win At Fergus

It's either a feast or famine in this business of scoring goals and winning hockey games. Against Oakville Thursday Spits couldn't beg or borrow a scoring streak.

It was the reverse Monday in Fergus as Harry Morrison's lads regained their exhibition games' high scoring pace to humble Fergus 8-3. The away atmosphere worked wonders for the Spits. Their defense tightened up, the forwards were skating and more to the point stoking in the goals. Spits were never headed. They shot into a 7-9 lead and that margin held up until late in the final round, before Fergus got busy in the final minutes to run in three against Spits one counter punch.

Ross Hochberg, our freewheeling defense, set for a big season, found time from his defense duties to wrap in two and Fred Houghton, our new center ice recruit, did likewise to pace
the Spits' assault. Don Smith, Bill Mabbett, Keith Collings and Grant Firth dished up a goal each to complete the Spits scoring picture.

Bears Finish Warm-Up

Aurora Bears wrote finish to their pre-season warm-ups last week. They entertained Brampton Regents at home and dropped a 5-3 decision and Saturday on the road at Dixie lost by an identical score to the junior B Dixie Bees.

Bears turned in a pretty nifty job holding the highly touted Regents to a two-goal margin. Regents at the moment are battling it out with Weston Dukes for the Big Six Junior B group leadership. Item one that caught the attention of Joe Burke and defense work of Wally Fines and Andy Closs, was the come-uppance of the Bears' kid line, Bob Veale, Bob Fallis and Warren Townsend. Veale gave the Bears their start with a breakaway and a whistling top corner shot.

Brampton flew back to forge a 3-1 first period edge as Joe Quinlan, Jack Whittle and John Stawson bashed the blue-ice behind Joey Burke. Bears' eagle-eyed net-minder.

Those three first period tallies did the trick for the Oilers as the Bears gave as much as they got from there on. The teams matched a goal each in both of the remaining rounds. Dave Boyce netted for Brampton to make it 4-1. Bob Veale came back to duplicate his first period counter. Andy Closs polished off a Joe Gasko relay in the third to complete the Bears scoring. John Stawson counted for the invaders as the Bears pressed to draw closer.

Coach Rowntree has the Bears in trim for the season-opener
tomorrow night against Owen Sound Greys. Bill Maguire, the Bears' latest, should prove an asset. Nobby Ash, recovering from a hand injury, got into the line-up against Brampton and appears ready for a big scoring year.

Minors Complete Plans

North York Minor Hockey League plans took another forward stride Friday as delegates from Woodbridge, Schomberg, Nobleton, Richmond Hill, Stouffville, Aurora, Newmarket and Kewick convened in the Aurora arena to set up the league constitution and accept entries from the various teams.

Richmond Hill, Aurora and Stouffville are definite starters in the juvenile series. In mid-week, Aurora, Newmarket and Nobleton filed entries. Four teams, Richmond Hill, Aurora, Newmarket and Schomberg will be out after the league's bantam title.
Further entries in juvenile are pending from Newmarket and Woodbridge. Woodbridge also have under consideration a mid-get and bantam team and have a week in which to enter the league race.

League schedule will be drawn up next week as soon as the teams have secured definite ice time at their home arenas. Discussion of rules followed and it was decided that O.M.H.A. rules regarding residence and age would apply.

Delegates also gave some thought to playoff arrangements and decided that the team finishing last in each series would be dropped from the playdown competition.

in trim for the season-opener

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

The past few evenings we have enjoyed the experience of sharing a book with the entire family. "Cargoes on the Great Lakes", by Marie McPhedran is the story.

Our nine-year-old son is thrilled with it. Even the two-year-old one has been included for the story is well illustrated. With his passion for boats, Dorothy Iven's many sketches appealed instantly. "Oh, boats," he shouts gleefully and we interrupt the reading momentarily to agree with him.

"Can I take it to school for the teacher to read?" asks the older boy. "We're studying transportation in our social studies and I know the class would like to hear it. Let's go down to the docks when we're in Toronto next time; maybe there'll be some of the freighters in port." "We'll think about that later, son. Now off to bed," we reply. "Think I'll draw a schooner tomorrow. No, perhaps it will be a pulpwood carrier. They're bigger," he muses as we tuck him in.

Looking for the book after the children's bedtime, we found father continuing the story. "You can catch up after school tomorrow," he suggests. "Have always been interested in the boats on the Great Lakes. When we were youngsters we would watch the oil tankers, the ships loaded with iron ore and coal pass under the lift bridge at Burlington Beach from Lake Ontario to Hamilton Bay. Now, there's one of Canada's finest inland harbors." But before we could reply he is back on a cargo ship bound for Sarnia so we retreat to the kitchen and the dinner dishes.

Marie McPhedran's latest book, "Cargoes on the Great Lakes", is published by MacMillan's, Toronto. Mrs. McPhedran is the mother of two children, a boy and a girl and the wife of Dr. Harris McPhedran, well-known Toronto physician and a former professor of medicine at the University of Toronto.

It was her son's interest in the Great Lakes' shipping which prompted the writing of this children's book. Mrs. McPhedran's childhood memories of shipping at Sault Ste. Marie were recalled, but for the complete study of lake shipping which is "Cargoes on the Great Lakes", many trips were made by the author on bulk freighters. She was accompanied on these voyages by the artist, Dorothy Iven. On one occasion, Mrs. McPhedran was the only passenger on a trip to the Canadian Lakehead for the grain late one season.

Mrs. McPhedran has had two other juveniles published, "Golden North" and "David and the White Cat". The former is now in all the schools of London, England, and is listed in Wilson's Standard Catalogue for high school libraries in the United States.

Mrs. McPhedran will be the guest speaker at the November 25 meeting of the Newmarket Home and School association. Speaking on "Sailing the Lakes for a Story", Mrs. McPhedran will carry through the theme of children's reading, set November 15 to 22, Young Canada's Book Week.

TOWN PULPIT

By the Pulpit

Two little girls had been a little slow in their walk to school. Suddenly they realized that it was getting late. What should they do? Said one, "Let's stop and pray that we don't get into trouble." "No, no," said the other, "Let's pray but let's keep running."

I wonder what sort of a lesson we might learn from this little girl who was so practical that she realized that it was necessary to DO something besides talking about it, even though the talking was in the form of a prayer.

I once heard of a man who was particularly difficult to get along with at home. He was constantly finding fault with his wife. He was persistently ugly and everlastingly sulky. But, whenever he went to church he was the most eloquent in his prayers. The other members of the church looked up to him and often spoke of his spirituality.

One prayer-meeting night he left his wife to finish up the house work and the supper dishes and without so much as a goodbye he struck off for church. This poor weary wife decided that she too would like to go to church, so leaving some of her work undone she hurried off. Just as she arrived her husband was rising to begin a long and lovely testimony as to his spiritual victories. As he waxed eloquent his wife leaned over the seat into which she had slipped and pulling his coat tail she whispered, "John, John, I'm here." Needless to say his testimony was spoiled and badly so.

It would seem to me that the time for much talk and even for overdone prayers is long since past. It is time for men and women who love their Lord to be up and doing. May we be forever saved from the making of much prayers that are not backed up by consistent Christian behaviour and may we realize that the Good Book makes it very clear that faith without works is dead.

TO HOLD BAZAAR, TEA

The annual St. Andrew's bazaar and afternoon tea of the Women's Association, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, will be held on Friday, Nov. 26, from 3 to 5 p.m. Weather and authentic tartans will be featured in the decorations.

General convener is Mrs. Victor McCutcheon. Mrs. W. R. Allen is in charge of the tea. Directing the luncheon at the bazaar are: Mrs. George Hammond; home baking Mrs. John Hodge; Mrs. Ernest Gordon and Mrs. Donald Davidson; candy Mrs. Ford Wilson and Mrs. Sidney Simmons; dolls and novelties Mrs. William Dunstan and Mrs. Lyle Bond; and fancy work, Miss Margaret Gilmore; Mrs. Grant Gline and Mrs. George Wilson.

REV. A. E. COLLINS NEW MINISTER AT NAZARENE CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Collins, a native of Pembroke, has been appointed minister of the Church of the Nazarene, Newmarket. He succeeds Rev. A. E. Petersen.

Rev. Collins received his education at Pembroke high school, Annesley College, Ottawa, and Queen's University, Kingston. He has held pastorates in Ottawa, Toronto and Hamilton in Ontario and Red Deer, Alta. He was engaged in educational work for several years and for six years was superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene in Ontario and Alberta.

In September, 1951, Rev. Collins visited the British Isles on a preaching tour. He comes now from London, Ont., where he has served as pastor of First Church of the Nazarene for three years.

He commences his pastorate in Newmarket next Sunday, Nov. 23. At 11 a.m. the subject of his messages will be "Man's Quest for Christ". In the evening he will speak on "Jesus and the Rich Young Ruler".

W.A. SUPPORTS INDIAN SCHOOL

Mrs. Denison, Toronto, the diocesan Dorcas secretary, was guest speaker at the Nov. 17 meeting of the Evening branch, W.A., St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket. Mrs. Denison gave a general outline of the work of the W.A., and spoke briefly of the missions in western Canada.

Mrs. Bert Budd presided and introduced the speaker who had visited the group two years ago. A vote of thanks was extended by Mrs. Thomas Gillespie.

Mrs. Denison said that of all the monies raised by the Anglican W.A., 93 percent is spent on missionary work in Canada. Old-Sun school in Alberta, a boarding school for Indian children, is entirely supported by the W.A., including Evening and Afternoon branches and the Junior auxiliaries. The children are clothed by the W.A. The school, named after a famous Indian chief, is a modern, complete unit, including dormitories, school rooms, recreation facilities, laundry, kitchen and dining rooms.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Mrs. Chas. Yates and a social half-hour was spent.

GUIDES RAISE $25

The Newmarket Girl Guide company participated in the annual Community bazaar held on Friday, Nov. 14, in the town hall. Approximately $25 was raised by the guides. The guides made the articles offered for sale at their booth. They decorated the booth and acted as salesladies on the day of the bazaar. Captain of the company, Mrs. Earl Thompson, supervised the project.

OPT-MRS. AT BAZAAR

The Newmarket Opt-Mrs. club participated in the community bazaar held last Friday under the sponsorship of the Handicraft group.

The Opt-Mrs. had a number of hand-made articles for sale as well as delicious baked goods, candies, and fancy bread. The ladies of the club number 18. They were pleased with the results of the bazaar.

The winner of a draw on a dress length, to be made up to the winner's own style, was Mrs. Shields, North Bay, who is visiting in town.

Official opening of the junior puck season at Aurora tomorrow night and Doug Clarke and Andy Closs were busy arranging the details at the weekend. The schedule published elsewhere in the paper was drawn at Colling-wood on Monday night and should prove a dandy. We aren't going to hex the Bears by calling them to win, but we do say they're better than last year as are Midland and Collingwood isn't as good as last spring.

On Saturday the Bears dropped a 5-2 decision to Dixie. It was the home opener for the Dixie team. "Stub" Edwards, Joe Gasko and Bob Veale were absentees from the Aurora lineup but they'll be back for Friday.

Artie Barber, who played "D" hockey with Aurora Cubs two years ago, returned to the club, and while out of condition, he looked as good as ever. The addition of Barber would be a ten-strike for the club and most popular with the fans. As the Bears enter the regular season they have a record of five losses and two wins. Every club they played was of higher calibre and at least three of the losses could have been wins.

I didn't see the contest but I've seldom heard so much difference of opinion as to whether the Bears looked good or bad among the fans. From now on the chips are down; the top two
"C" clubs will hit the play-off for their own rating.
It's a long grind, and with coaches like Eddie Bush, Roy Conacher and Chuck Conacher

Miami Greens Organize For Winter Season

Miami Greens where the "roaring game of lawn bowling goes on through the frosty winter months and where friendship and good fellowship share top billing with good bowling shots, opened up for the season 1952-53 Friday.

It was a big and important night in two ways, first the Miami Greensmen, as well as launching their "winter-long bowling" program, halted long enough to honor one of their staunchest and best bowlers.

Honored bowler was Andy Murdison who, along with Jim Law and Frank Courtney, was chiefly instrumental in opening Miami Greens and keeping the club a going concern over the past three seasons.

The "Murdison Honor Night" came as a complete surprise to Mr. Murdison and you could have knocked him over with a feather when his fellow club members presented him with a travelling bag.

Executive officers are: Hon.
Pres. J. O. Little; Pres. G. L.
Manning; 1st vice-pres. Tommy Scott; second vice-pres. Tom Doyle; Sec.-Treas. Frank Courtney; directors, J. O. Little, Bill Geer, Larry Bell and Andy Murdison.

Aurora Bears two years ago and was good to move to intermediate with the bankrupt Aurora Indians, was on the defence for Oakville last Thursday against Newmarket and played a sound game. Oakville showed the regular schedule will be a tough one. Elmira Polar Kings, who won the intermediate "B" crown, but have been classified as "A"
this year, will be mighty tough.
They have three straight wins under their belt, including one against Guelph Biltmores.

Nick Bangay, always a forward until this season, has been moved back to the blue line with tremendous effect by coach Bob Bangay as Jim Machin is temporarily absent. Nick will likely stay there now. Normie Stenden has not as yet appeared in the nets, and it seems too bad that the Spifires can't use him. It's Normie's own choice of course.

Answer to inquirer: Signed rural hockey players can perform in groups at either Newmarket or Aurora as these are purely local leagues and not affiliated with the O.R.H.A. The players in the King-Vaughan league are regular O.R.H.A. players as are those who play for Koswick, Sutton, etc. O.H.A. intermediate players are barred from rural play in any form.
Junior "D" and "C" players may be approved for rural play, in special circumstances. The rural officials, quite wisely enough have dedicated their league to those who play one-team, no pay-roll hockey. We hope this meets the point involved.

Regents Smash Bruins Mounties Win Again

Town league tussles get better all the time. A pair of ply-eroos Tuesday. Big news, Town Regents full of pep and go, win their first belt at Vandrof Bruins, 8-3. Mount Albert made it three in a row, hexing Kettle-by Jets 5-2.

In the curtain raiser, Vandrof scored first. Mike VanNostrand was the sniper. The Bruins lead lasted exactly a minute and ten seconds. Then the gassed-up Oilers fired a return salvo. Jack Staley's shot tied it; Cliff Gunn put 'em in front.

Vandrof knocked again at Bill Grant's cord cupboard to open the second. Ross Forfar doing the honors. Ken Groves, Ken Thoms, Ortle Thoms counted in that order for a Regent 5-2 margin before period ended. Vandrof did it again to start round three away, with handy Andy Lloyd smashing home a shot.

Then it was Ortle Thoms again. Laurie VanZant and Murray MacDonald to parcel the win. Don't know what advice Coach Father T. J. McCabe and his assistant, Hack Cain, whispered to the Oilers prior to game time. It should be patented.
Regents skated like the wind and checked like flinders.

Defensively they were strong.
Whitley Bone, Deb Cooper, Jack Smith and Lowell Waller doing valiant work in front of Bill
"Mahers" Grant. Regents probably would have added another half dozen except for the shot blocking wizardry of Bruins'
Tommy Hulme. Hulme stopped 44 pecks of rubber. Bruins only led eight men. It'll be different next time, says Bruins mentor Bob Brown.

"Who'll stop Mount Albert?"
They can't be stopped it seems.
A three goal first period started them away to a 5-2 win over Kettleby in the nightcap fixture.
Don't know how Coach Murray
Edgar does it; he loses one goalie and signs another just as good. In this case John Red Palmateer. Red stopped a flock of biscuits. Both Kettleby tallies were of the breakaway variety.
Ted Rogers, up and coming hockey lad, sunk number one in the first.

Ted Derbyshire, newest Jet, broke in alone for Jets' number two tally late in round three.
Tie up one Mounties line, another breaks out. Swiftly Todd and line-mate Bruce Paisley were chief Mountie triggermen in this one. Swiftly scored Mount start-off counter. Bruce Paisley their second. John Learoyd, smooth efficient centerman, popped in the third.

That furnished Mounties with a 3-1 first round edge. The teams dished out fast scoreless hockey in the middle session.
Bill Brett was helped by Ross Draper; then it was the Good wood flash, Swiftly Todd again, to rack up the Mounties finish-off score. Tuesday next, a big night, Mount vs. Regents, Jets vs. Vandrof Bruins.

ELMIRA HERE TONIGHT
Stormy weather coming up for the Spits tonight (Thursday) at the Memorial arena. Elmira Polar Kings, last year's intermediate B titleholders, are due to drop in for a tilt with the Spits. Coach Morrison will have to have his tribe in high gear to win this one. Don't let the fact that Elmira carries a B rating fool you. The Polar Kings recently tumbled Guelph Junior A's in an exhibition contest and Saturday night measured the Eddie Bush-coached Collingwood Shipbuilders 9-3 and the Polar Kings did it right in the heart of Bush-town. Convinced, then we'll see you at the arena tonight.

Lucky us, one game doesn't make a season, win or lose a championship. Looking on the bright side, much rather lose the first and win the last. Busy times these, won't have much time to delve into the why's and whereof's of the Spits loss.

Anyhow, good news from afar off, Spits win in Fergus Monday. Elmira Polar Kings are here tonight. Spits will have to be on the jump. Kings, though a B club, must have a lot on the ball to drop Collingwood Saturday in the Bush lair 7-3.

Guessperts appeared too ready to hang the defense for Thursday's defeat. Probably you won't agree; again you may, from our box seat vantage site, got the idea that the Spits wingers were chiefly responsible. They weren't coming back and they weren't patrolling their board beats.

Couldn't see Ken Broughton sitting out in favor of lighter wingmen. "Brought" can turn in a good defensive game and give you a solid checking chore. Spits can do better, will do better, but could use a couple of good wingmen but then who couldn't? Zippered snapshots: Minor hockey is off to winging start in the Hub and North York. North York's biggest little hockey circuit, the public schools loop, goes Saturday. Quite a hockey family. There are 164 wee nippers 6 to 11 on the list. League won't turn up its nose at a set of sweaters by the by.

Good and bad news is on the Hub sponsorship front. Peter Gorman has taken bantams under his wing; midgets are set via the Optimist Clubbers. They're both pointed for North York league action. Juveniles are still searching for that precious but necessary item, a sponsor, 20 players available for ice duty. Any offers?

North York Minor hockey loop is shaping up nicely, thank you. Woodbridge, Nobleton, Schomberg, Richmond Hill, Stouffville, Aurora and Newmarket are in, make a start on the schedule this week as soon as Woodbridge gets organized and Newmarket juveniles get cracking.

Must look like Newmarket night every Wednesday and Saturday at Varsity arena. Herb Cain and Bill Grant are with Mahers. Bill Thoms is the Shoe-men's coach. Hugh "Scotty"

Spits Lose First In Group

Not! Not! Not! this. Spits gather in five in a row in pre-season struggles. They reached the count stage last Thursday, what happens? You guessed it, they lose their first group game to Oakville Kelton Klippers, absorbing a 7-3 set-back. Right here we pause while 800 odd "hopeful" disciples shed bitter tears.

Let's say the Spits got a bad game out of their system. Certainly it was below their pre-season par when they kept the scorer doing a brisk trade. They can do better, must do better, if they plan to get back in the autograph league.

Actually it wasn't as bad as it sounds; shots on goal tended to prove this. The Morrisonmen rammed 34 pokes at the Oaks' cage; there were as many or more near misses. Oakville punched 33 shots at the Bill Mulholland, Ken Tupling Spits-guarded cords.

The Spits couldn't find the hole to push the biscuit by Oakville's guard, Gard LeGear; he was both good and lucky. Oakville, however, made their strikes pay dividends. The game also tended to prove the theory that you can't win 'em in the sin bin. The Douke-K's had all the better of it in this department, losing but 11 minutes; Spits had 19 hung on them.

Oakville took that one man advantage to run in four of their seven counters. Jack Andrews alone earned 11 minutes as Referee Jack Shropshire kept a weather eye on our rugged Long Jawn. There was no real hatred in this the first meeting of the two teams.

Only occasion when the word ruckus might apply was when Jack Andrews and visitors Ray Patterson attempted to set up a permanent wave business via a high stick swinging exchange. They were caught in time and did time for five minutes.

Spits did what scoring they could at a goal a period clip. It was all done by Morrison's start-off trio of Fred Haughton, Don Gibson and Grant Firth. Haughton making an effective sparkling start, tipped in a Grant Firth relay. Nicely done it was too and it matched a 30-footer fired a minute previously by the Klippers' Ed Wilson.

The tie situation lasted exactly eight seconds; Ray Patterson broke it in favor of the invaders and Oaks were in command to stay 4-1 before the period was out on Jack Galbraith's two quickie goals.

Good, Oakville the spotters, hunted up another two goal block of bad news for the Spits in round two before Don Gibson

Mair has just taken over as mastermind of Avro's, another Varsity Commercial crew. Bob Fern, Optimist N.H.L. and Aurora Bears graduate, is hitting a fast scoring clip with Weston Dukes. Recently Bob sniped four and Tuesday punched in two. Keep on stroking them in Bob and they'll find a Leaf sweater to fit you.

Mount Albert can win without Horace. They "dood it" Tuesday without "old Faithful" Horace Berwick on hand to prime them. Just the same, coach Murray Edgar would be wise to have Horace on hand next Tuesday. Mounties tackle the Newmarket Regents in what promises to be "the big game" in the Newmarket and District blossoming season.

Town Leaguers are turning in sharp efforts. Better take a look see Tuesday. If Stan Terry and Bill Hodgson can get Kettleby a win Kettleby supporters will tear down the Gardens. Hub produces winners in every line; here's a new one; Pluto and Diz are tag team champs.

Four fans have asked, "How are you doing on that challenge games Spits vs Town League all-stars". No nibbles yet. We'll name our town stars next week.

Start School Hockey Sat.
The Newmarket Public Schools' hockey league, North York's largest, finest and liveliest hockey circuit, gets rolling this Saturday morning at the arena. League has eight teams and boasts a playing roster of 164 players. League is divided into four pee-wee and four squirt teams.

Squirt league teams, named after American hockey league counterparts, are Barons, Hornets, Flyers and Warriors. Pee-wee clubs, bearing N.H.L. names, are Maple Leafs, Canadiens, Red Wings and Black Hawks. Team rosters are being circulated through the schools this week and will be available for publication next week.

Residents Of Mount Albert Display Community Pride: Jaycees Stage Big Success

Some months ago we wrote a few paragraphs telling of an incident that happened at Mount Albert. Mr. Don Fairbairn, the popular custodian of the Sunday morning broadcast, "Neighborhood News", thought it of sufficient importance to select it from his variegated assortment of weekly events and put it on the air.

Least there be those among our valued readers who may, unfortunately, have missed the issue of the Era and Express in which the incident was related, we will briefly repeat it. It concerned the experience of Mr. Marshall, Fuller Brush representative, whose home is at Keswick, and who left his suitcase containing $75 worth of samples on Mount Albert's main business street for almost a whole day. He returned to find it sitting where he left it with all its contents intact. We praised "honest Mount Albert" and Mr. Fairbairn repeated our praise. Naturally the Mount Albert folks were very pleased over what had been written and said about their community, and some of them took time out to write a letter of thanks to the Era and Express, and this was very much appreciated.

Unfrequented Byways

On Friday afternoon last, November 14, when the sun was shining and the air was as soothing as a late summer's day, a good friend motored our wife and self on a countryside itinerary. We struck out east with no plan except that of dawdling along on unfrequented byways, and adjoining which there is little now except the panorama of natural objects in seasonal decline. Soon now a deep carpet of white snow will shield from view the ravages of decline; the brown grass that once was green and withered leaves from trees that now are gaunt and bare.

But not all the vegetation is bare. We passed many splendid areas rich with the evidence of the invaluable work being carried out by the department of Lands and Forests. Here was visible proof of what is being done in the work of re-afforestation and the conservation of land. It would be difficult to over-praise this magnificent work of reclamation, the peak of which is, perhaps, reached in Vivian Forest.

Winding in and out along narrow but excellent roads, which are a tribute to the Highways department of the Provincial government and passing many a fine farm and homestead on an unscheduled route, we reached Holt and the highway leading to a final objective, which was Mount Albert. This was the Mecca of our afternoon tour, and we reached it with some approach to the feelings pilgrims must have on their way to the Holy City.

Mount Albert

We had heard much about Mount Albert which is picturesquely poised on the top of a hill, whence there is a commanding view of the far-reaching countryside. It must be lovely on a summer's day on that fine uprise. On this November day the village looked most attractive, with its many fine homes and good business places, to which the visitor is directed by a sign, "Business Section".

Mount Albert looks very trim. It boasts a fire department, a community hall and a well-kept community park and bandstand. Everywhere one looks one sees evidence of community pride. A passing visit in a car leaves a feeling of curiosity, so that one would like to know more about so attractive a centre. Perhaps some resident could tell us how Mount Albert got its most appropriate name?

We were glad to see Mount Albert. One day we must go back again and get better acquainted with it.

Repeat Editorial
It gave us pleasure to see that the Journal-Argus republished most of what we wrote in a recent editorial on the subject of drivers who use the highways but carry no insurance. Our editorial was entitled, "Penalizing the Victims" and pleaded for compulsory insurance for all vehicular users of the highways.

The St. Mary's Journal-Argus is one of the oldest and one of the best weekly newspapers circulating in Ontario. We used to see copies handed to us by Mr. B. G. Whitelaw, who used to bring it down after Mrs. Whitelaw had finished with it, St. Mary's being her home town. Some time ago we had it placed on our exchange list of newspapers.

It contains fine editorials, of a thought-provoking and sometimes provocative nature. Mrs. Grace Eady's column, "From a Kitchen Window", is always a treasury of fine thought and smooth, polished prose.

ZONING BY-LAW

Motion For Second Reading Of Zoning By-Law Carried: Jones And Murray Protest

A special meeting of the town council was held on Thursday night, Nov. 13, further to consider the zoning by-law. Mayor Rose and all members of council were in attendance. Dr. Boulding, chairman of the Planning board, sat through most of the proceedings but declined an invitation to take part in the discussion. Town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee, was also present.

The proceedings lasted for nearly three hours and heated episodes characterized parts of the debate. Before the motion for the second reading of the by-law was put to council, several speeches were made. It is these we are reporting, made before the motion for the second reading was put and carried and council "dissolved itself into a committee of the whole."

Councillor Tucker moved the second reading of the by-law and this was seconded by Councillor Davis. Mayor Rose asked council's "pleasure" on the motion, whereupon Councillor D. J. Murray immediately rose to state that he had something to say.

Requests Decision

Councillor Murray said that for several months past members of council had had copies of the by-law in their possession for purposes of study and suggested that they should be familiar with it by this time. He said there had been a joint meeting of council and the planning board for the purpose of learning all about the by-law.

Last spring, said Mr. Murray, the contentious 55 foot set-back by-law had been rescinded by council and confirmed by the municipal board, but claimed that it had made a re-appearance in another form in the present by-law. Objectionable features in the by-law, to which the town solicitor had drawn the attention of council, had not been taken out.

"We have an obligation to the property owners of the town," said Mr. Murray, "and we should be in a position on nomination night to inform them what council was doing about the zoning by-law," pointing out that "it had been under discussion for over a year." He added that the by-law was not in order since an integral map to go with it was last year's map.

Mr. Murray reminded council that once the by-law was passed it would stick for 21 years or more and there was nothing council could do about it. He considered that they should not let power be taken from council and handed over to the planning board.

Winding up his remarks, Councillor Murray said they had given the by-law one reading as a matter of courtesy to the planning board, members of which had put in a lot of time on it. But he was opposed to wasting any more time on it and hoped council would reach a decision that night and vote it down.

Deputy- Reeve Disagrees
Deputy-Reeve James Murray said he wholeheartedly disagreed with the remarks of Councillor Murray. He said that council had to carry on with the job of studying the by-law. "Why drop it like a hot potato?" he asked.

The deputy-reeve said there had been far too much work done on it to throw it aside now.

Councillor Jones
Councillor Vic Jones said he was of the opinion that the by-law should never have had a first reading. He expressed the opinion that it was not at present in by-law shape. "There would have to be many alterations made in it," said Mr. Jones, and recommended that it be "put into shape before a second reading."

EDITORIALS

TOTTING UP THE SCORE

Tonight, Thursday, Nov. 20, is nomination night in Aurora for the offices becoming vacant through one year of service on council and for two years in other instances. And tonight these retiring office-holders will be giving their own reports of services rendered. Apart from all questions of the results of such service, office-holders are entitled to the thanks of the citizens for their willingness to accept public responsibilities.

That much having been readily granted, there follows the process of totting up the results of such services. Retiring office-holders will personally add up their own score; and in our opinion, press observers are equally entitled to pass on their views to the citizens. Otherwise what real service does a press observer render to his readers? In our own case we are presenting our views in the articles entitled "Review of Council".

Repeatedly we have said that we have no favorites on council. That is perfectly true. Our business is to report the work of council for our readers, without preference or prejudice in the case of those taking part in it. In other words, our constant aim is to inform readers of what is done in council and not to omit anything because it is not in accord with our own views. All papers do not observe such rules.

Our own views on the general work of council during 1952 appeared in our last issue and in a further article we have made an appraisal of the men responsible for it.

KEEPING OUT THE PRESS

Tonight, Thursday, the electors of Aurora have the democratic right to nominate those whom they would like to see holding office next year. On Dec. 1 these recommendations will be decided by popular vote. Nominations will be required for the offices of mayor, reeve, deputy-reeve and six councillors; three public school trustees; and for one hydro commissioner.

In the instance of the hydro commissioner the retiring member is the chairman, Mr. George Baldwin. Twelve months ago Mr. Baldwin resigned but for reasons wrapped in mystery the resignation did not become effective. We tried our best to unravel the mystery but did not succeed in doing so. Time itself has settled all speculations concerned with that event and cleared the decks for an electoral contest to decide whether or not Mr. Baldwin is to stay put.

Assuming that Mr. Baldwin wishes to "stay put" by again offering himself for re-election, we hope an election contest will take place. Acclamations are an unhealthy sign in any municipality. An acclamation for Mr. Baldwin would mean a continuance of keeping out the press at hydro meetings and consequently an absence of knowledge on the part of the ratepayers on what takes place at such meetings.

Mr. Baldwin stated in clear language that he preferred the press being kept away from hydro meetings. Why such censorship of news? The Aurora hydro is maintained by the citizens of Aurora. What reasons are there for withholding information from the public which the press could supply? The press is admitted to hydro meetings in other municipalities in Ontario. Why not in Aurora? The Aurora hydro is a public utility, not a subsidiary of Aurora Belle or other private company.

NO INFORMATION

Three retirements are due from the board of public school trustees, appointed for two-year terms. The members who have served for the two years are Dr. E. J. Henderson, chairman, Mr. Charles Peterson and Mrs. Lorne C. Lee.

It is quite possible that the public school board, and the Aurora hydro commission, are fully worthy of the highest commendation. We wish we could say so right here and now. But how can we do so since we have no information on the activities of these boards? To praise them would be as foolish as to blame them.

But is this ignorance on the part of the press and the public a desirable state of affairs? We hold the positive view that it is a presumption on the part of any public board to conduct its affairs in private. The public school board is concerned with education and the spending of ratepayers' money. These are matters of public concern.

No one outside the members of the board knows what takes place at its meetings. In the adjoining municipalities of Newmarket and Richmond Hill the press is freely admitted to Public school board meetings. Why are similar facilities not openly placed at the disposal of the press in Aurora? This question we have repeatedly asked without receiving any satisfactory reply.

The only impartial medium of news on the work of school boards is that of the press; but in Aurora the chairmen of these boards appear to act as though "where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise," as far as the taxpayers are concerned.

COUNCIL REPORT

Solicitor Cites High-Handed Action By Planning Board As Mills Resignation Discussed

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, November 17, with Mayor Rose in the chair and all members present. A highlight of the early proceedings was a letter of resignation received from Mr. W. S. Mills, vice-chairman of the Aurora Planning Board. A number of delegations were also present.

Among correspondence received was a letter from Mr. J. W. Gray, of Kennedy St. W., claiming costs against the town for damages to his car on Kennedy St. Councillor Tucker and other members of council stated that there was a road sign warning to motorists, and the claim was dismissed on the advice of the solicitor and engineer.

Further letters were read from Mr. F. J. Diamond, intimating his intention to vacate the premises he had recently rented at the town hall, and another in which it was stated that Walter (Wilkie) Wilkinson was making good progress from the serious accident he suffered, and for whom a welfare fund was inaugurated.

Mr. Mills Resigns

A lengthy letter was read from the vice-chairman of the Aurora Planning Board, Mr. W. S. Mills, parts of which were couched in strong terms and provoked considerable discussion. The resignation arose from what appeared to be Mr. Mills' view that Mayor Rose and council had acted improperly in refusing to permit a Toronto lawyer to state a case for the Planning board, when the zoning by-law had come up for consideration at a joint meeting of council and the Planning board held on October 14.

Mayor Rose stated that town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee, had protested that to bring in another solicitor while Mr. Lee was acting for the town, was a breach of professional etiquette. He was placed in the position of having either to accept Mr. Lee's resignation or the resignation of Mr. Mills.

He decided not to admit an outside lawyer to intervene in the discussions and his action was upheld by council. While he regretted that Mr. Mills had resigned, the mayor said he still adhered to his former decision, which brought comments from Councillors Murray and King that they considered matters had been closed at the time.

Councillor Jones asked what other action council could have taken? "Can anybody come to council and talk?" asked Mr. Jones. Council agreed that the mayor's action was right, he stated. Commenting on the letter from Mr. Mills, Mr. Jones said it seemed to him that an apology from council was being asked for. "He'll get no apologies from me," he said emphatically.

Mr. Lee's Statement

In response to a request from Mayor Rose if he had anything to say, Mr. Lee reminded council of what happened in 1951, when the Planning board went afield and got another solicitor to handle a by-law, with the intention of getting it registered without the consent of the town's own solicitor. "That by-law was town property," said Mr. Lee, and the registrar declined to register it as he considered it would be entirely out of order to do so.

Mr. Lee said he considered it was a great reflection on himself as town solicitor that the Planning board should have taken such a course. Later in the year the by-law which council had passed was rescinded by the same council, and it was handed back to him to deal with. All through 1952 the Planning Board had failed to call him into conference except in one instance, although he was ready at all times to confer on the present zoning by-law.

Mr. Lee said he considered the action of the Planning board in calling an out-of-town solicitor to talk on planning matters while he was still town solicitor, acting for council and the citizens of Aurora, a very serious and unwarrantable thing to do.

Accept, Then Decline

Deputy-reve Murray said he would move that the resignation of Mr. Mills be accepted, together with an expression of regret. He did not think they could do anything else.

Councillor Tucker said they should not accept the resignation.

A HISTORIC NIGHT

Portrait Of Queen, Consort Presented To Town Council; Town Grets Many Visitors

Councillor D. J. Murray and Mrs. Murray played the parts of host and hostess on behalf of the citizens of Aurora on Monday night, November 17, when they entertained a large number of notabilities at their apartment at the Queen's hotel, on the occasion of a presentation of portraits of Her Majesty the Queen and Her Prince Consort to the town. The portraits will hang in the council chamber.

The presentations were described by Mr. A. Hulse in a felicitously-worded address, after a few words of introduction from Chief Burbridge, head of the York county police association. A large body of police was present, and representatives from all the North York municipalities were in attendance.

In his address, Mr. Hulse emphasized the nature of the freedom-loving countries of which Canada was one. He humorously remarked that although there were many police present, that did not mean that they were living in a "police state." On the contrary, he stated, the free peoples of the commonwealth and empire were bound together by a bond of affection that existed between them and the Crown.

Following the address by Mr. Hulse, Chief Burbridge then handed over the portraits of Her Majesty and Prince Consort to Mayor Rose, who in a few gracious words of acceptance expressed the gratitude of council for the gifts.

Excellent Entertainment

Following the adjournment of council, Mayor Rose and all members of the town council repaired to the Queen's hotel, where they were received by Councillor and Mrs. Murray, who also welcomed Mayor Vale and members of the Newmarket town council. Many ladies were also present and the guests numbered 65.

Mayor Rose expressed pleasure at the presence of Mayor Vale and his council, stating that such an occasion provided excellent goodwill publicity for both towns. He also welcomed in the names of Mr. and Mrs. Murray, and on behalf of the town of Aurora, the many visitors who were present from other municipalities as guests of the town.

Chief Burbridge, on behalf of the police, who were present in large numbers, thanked the town for its hospitality and moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Murray for the excellent arrangements and refreshments they had provided for the visitors.

Mayor Vale, speaking for himself and members of the Newmarket council, expressed great pleasure at being present on such an occasion in Aurora. The mayor said he hoped to have a similar visit from Mayor Rose and members of his council in the near future. It was good for both towns to get together.

Many tributes were paid to Mrs. Murray, wife of Councillor Murray, for the beautiful variety of refreshments provided for the guests. The event, which brought so many representative people from the county together, is regarded as a great boost for the town of Aurora.

What They Are Saying

Is It A Record?
The members of the Aurora lawn bowling club began their season of active play in the last week of April, and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, November 15 and 16, many of them were still at it on a green still in fine condition. Some Toronto clubs closed down in the middle of September. The Aurora club was still in action two months later. We wonder if this sets up a lawn bowling record?

New England Style

In a talk we had with Mr. R. W. Cornish, whose family reunion we reported last week, he was telling us about the system of local government in operation in his home-town of Holden (10,000 population) Massachusetts, U.S.A. He promised us more information on this subject after his return to his home.

Two things he did tell us were interesting. In New England the citizens describe their elected local representatives as "Select Men" and their first citizen, whom we would call mayor, "Moderator". On all subjects of a contentious character (such, for example, as a zoning by-law) the taxpayers exercise the right of voting on them there and then. By this prompt method disputable questions are not allowed to sour the community by indefinite discussion but are speedily settled by the will of the people.

Mr. Illyd Harris and his Aurora United church choir journeyed to Hamilton on Saturday last to take part in the Eisteddfod held on that day. In a competition among four choirs Aurora took a first in the juvenile class.

Miss Phillipa Garstang, a pupil of Mr. Harris, took third place in a competition for girls under 17 years of age.

Leslie Bell Singers
The Aurora Junior Chamber of Commerce is deserving of sincere congratulations on the brilliant success of their big venture in bringing Mr. Leslie R. Bell, M.A., Mus. D., and his famous singers to town on Friday night, Nov. 14. The High school auditorium was packed to capacity and we have heard many expressions of delight at the beautiful singing in a wide range of selections.

Among so much that was uniformly of a very high standard it is almost invidious to make comparisons, but the rendering of Schubert's Ave Maria, by Miss Joyce Sullivan, captured the admiration and enthusiasm of her large and discriminating audience.

Some feared that the Junior chamber had taken on too big a venture for a small town such as Aurora, but the results have nullified the pessimists. The Junior chamber is a fine, energetic organization which is contributing valuable community work to Aurora.

Helping The Boys

The Aurora Rotary club, noted for its good works, is now taking a keen interest in Saturday morning hockey at the arena, on behalf of the PeeWees. No less than 42 boys have been registered and they will be formed into four squads under Councillor D. J. Murray, Albert Morrison, Sam King and Kenneth Bennett. Bill Mundell and Loring Doolittle will take over as coaches.

W.I. Bazaar

The Aurora W.I. bazaar which was held on Saturday, Nov. 16, at the Oddfellows hall, was the first of its kind and it proved to be a great success. Over $300, we understand, was realized from the eight booths and parcel post sale. The convenor of the bazaar was Mrs. Herbert Anderson.

CORRECTION!

Proclamations put out by the Banner Press, Aurora, state that the municipal elections in Aurora will be held on December 11. This is not correct. The date of elections is Monday, December 1.

COUNCIL REPORT

tion, but ask Mr. Mills to reconsider his decision. He was of the opinion that Mr. Mills knew more about planning than any other member of the board.

Councillor Murray said he believed that Mr. Mills had made up his mind to resign and would not change.

Councillor Corbett, in seconding the motion that the resignation be accepted, said that Mr. Mills should be thanked for his services.

Councillor Tucker said he would move an amendment that the resignation be not accepted, and that Mr. Mills be asked to reconsider it. The motion was seconded by Councillor King.

Mayor Rose put the amendment first and it was carried four to three. Those voting in favor of the amendment were: Deputy-revee Murray (who, therefore voted against his own motion), and Councillors Tucker, Davis and King. Voting against the amendment: Councillors Corbett, Jones and Murray.

Delegations
For the Board of Trade, Mr. H. Seston introduced a delegation for whom Mr. Fisher spoke in recommendation of council support in efforts that were being made to secure additional parking space. The area under consideration was situated near the present town parking lot, behind the site of the Imperial Oil company.

This matter was referred to committees, as were the representations of a second Board of Trade delegation which urged council to proceed with possible annexations from adjoining municipalities, in the interests of ducing the locating of new industries. Mr. A. E. L. Maughan spoke for the delegation and was supported by Mr. J. Bowser and Mr. Lees-Owrens. Others present were Mr. H. R. McKenzie and Mr. John Morning.

Parks Board
Mr. R. H. Corner, chairman of the Parks Board, presented a lengthy report on the work that had been carried out since the board's inception. He made special reference to the improvements at McMahon park, and paid tribute to the good work done by the board's employee, Mr. Miller. Mr. Corner thanked the mayor and members of council for their support and active interest. He stated that the board had held eight meetings during the year and hoped the work would be continued.

Mayor Rose congratulated Mr. Corner on his report, saying that it proved a fine job had been done.

On a motion by Reeve Cook, seconded by Councillor Jones, council resolved that a letter of appreciation be sent to the Parks Board.

Police Committee

A report from the Police committee recommended that Chief Dunham's salary be increased from $2915 to $3300 per annum; that constable Langman's salary be increased from $2756 to $2900 per annum; and that constable Kroetker's salary be increased from $2392 to $2850 per annum. All increases to be effective as of December 1, 1952.

The mayor and members of council paid tribute to the excellent work being done by the town police force and the recommendations of the committee were unanimously approved.

Bell Telephone System Ready For Warning Civilians Of Attack

A civil defence attack warning system which will spread an alarm simultaneously and effectively to an unlimited number of points is now available to meet certain needs of Canadian cities and towns.

The "Bell and Lights" system, as it is called, utilizes telephone facilities and equipment. The system consists of a special telephone dial located at a central control point and connected by private one-way telephone circuits to signal boxes which register both sound and light warnings.

The system was developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, in accordance with requirements of civil defence authorities in the United States. The Bell Telephone Company of Canada is making it available in this country.

The system can be installed in any city where officials decide to incorporate it into their civil defence planning. It would be used to relay warnings from the civil defence control centre to such points as police and fire stations, hospitals, industrial plants, radio stations, newspapers, transportation companies, and other key industries.

The dial is like an ordinary telephone dial, modified with a color code in place of the letters and numbers. Each of four holes in the dial is labelled by a color. When "yellow" is dialed it transmits a confidential alert or warning that an attack may take place; "red" indicates an attack is imminent; "white" is the all-clear, and "stop" ends any previously dialed signal and releases the circuit.

"Blue" is included and could be used for some special purpose but, as yet, it is inoperative.

Aurora Social News

Mr. Frank Mathers, Estevan, Sask., was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. M. Hulse. Mr. Mathers, who is president of the Saskatchewan Command, Canadian Legion, was greatly impressed with the progressive appearance of Aurora and the fine new buildings, particularly the Legion hall, the district high school and the Imperial Bank building. The friendliness of Aurora people reminded him of his home town, Mr. Mathers said.

Misses Jean and Joan McLeod, Schomberg, were recent guests of Nan and Margaret Dennis.

At the W. A. meeting of the United church on Thursday afternoon, Mr. R. B. Waters gave a demonstration on Melmac dinnerware.

The Toronto Star gave their carriers a banquet on Monday, Nov. 9, at the Graystones.

Mr. W. O. McIntyre returned on Thursday from a two weeks' hunting trip at Little Current, Manitoulin Island.

The choir of the United church enjoyed a pumpkin pie social on Thursday evening after their regular practice.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr. T. C. McLeod is quite ill in the General hospital.

The W.A. of Trinity church met at the home of Mrs. J. Wilis on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Garfat left on Saturday for Houston, Texas, where they will attend the Purina awards won during the year for sales production.

The Evening branch of the United church met on Monday evening in the church parlors. Miss Daphne Medhurst, Toronto, gave a very interesting travelogue.

The Presbyterian W.M.S. met on Wednesday afternoon at the manse. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. McDonald gave a reading on Thanksgiving and Mrs. Leslie Wilson reviewed the study book on South America.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. H. P. Bayeroff is home from the hospital.

The Business and Professional Women are having a dinner party in Trinity hall on Tuesday evening. The evening will be spent in playing whist.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Copland, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Willson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fierheller were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Anderson of Brampton.

"... the building of my herd"

Many a farmer knows that initiative, hard work and the financial support of the bank can all play their part in developing a successful farming operation.

One such man, a rancher in the West, recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I wish to express my appreciation of the way your bank has treated me through the years... the encouragement you have given me in the building of my herd. I feel the success we have achieved could hardly have been obtained without your intelligent support."

The farmer uses bank credit in many ways: to develop his land, buy livestock and equipment, market crops. Aiding Canada's food producers is an important part of the broad service the chartered banks perform for all Canadians.

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

The November meeting of the Temperanceville branch was held at the home of the president, Mrs. C. Beynon. Twenty-two members and one visitor provided some fun with their answers to the roll call, "My favorite short joke."

One hundred dollars was voted for the continued sponsorship of a little French girl and a Greek boy through "Save the Children Fund". A large Cheddar cheese is to be sent our sister Scotch W.I. for Christmas.

Mrs. E. Phillips, social convener, reported 11 tables of euchar players on Nov. 4. On Nov. 18 the branch is looking forward to another evening of euchar.

During the meeting the auction sale of plants created a spark of humor and realized $17.50.

The poem, "Flanders Fields", was read by Mrs. B. Palmer. The three days of the convention at the Royal York were vividly described in Mrs. Nelson Thompson's report.

Fine Orchard branch held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Boake on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 12. The program was in charge of convener of agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. Rae McClure. Current events were given by Mrs. Arnold Johnson and an interesting paper on sheep raising was given by Mrs. Rae McClure.

The W. I. is sending a Christmas parcel to a sister W.I. in England. Mrs. George Mason, delegate to the W.I. area convention, gave a splendid report.

The Gormley branch will meet at the home of Mrs. George Boynton on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 2 p.m. Motto, "Things done today mean less trouble tomorrow." There will be convention reports and everyone is asked to bring a gift and magazines for charity. Mrs. George Boynton will provide the program and hostesses are Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Roy Smith.

The regular meeting of the Mount Albert branch took place on Nov. 13 at the home of Mrs. B. Sinclair with 25 members present. The roll call was "What constitutes a good citizen?"

During the business period, it was decided to have the annual banquet on April 18, 1953. An Institute float is being planned for the town's Christmas Santa Claus parade. A card party will be sponsored by the branch to help the skating rink, if it is started.

Mrs. M. Stokes and Mrs. H. Shillinglaw provided a very interesting program, including the fine Institute convention report given by Mrs. G. Snyder and Mrs. H. Kurtz.

A lovely piano solo by Betty Rolling followed the report. Mrs. Errington and Mrs. Farr gave current events. A remembrance poem, "They Live", was read by Mrs. M. Stokes.

"The Canadian soldier had a job to do in our wars. He did it, seeking neither glory or honor in the cause of freedom," Rev. David Wotherspoon told King City branch at the monthly meeting on Nov. 11, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Willoughby. Mr. Wotherspoon likes to think of Remembrance Day as a time when the common soldier who sacrificed his life is remembered because his country's freedom and liberty was at stake. Unlike the Japanese fighter, he was not bound by tradition to seek death to honor an emperor.

In keeping with the customary Remembrance practice, the members contributed food parcels for a sister branch in Kent England, which Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Patton and Mrs. Verdun Gordon offered to pack and ship. Two parcels weighed 35 pounds. Practicing the Mary Stewart collect in daily living is a means of putting into action the motto, "No one can disgrace us but ourselves," Mrs. Archie Campbell told the branch. Mrs. Willoughby told about Spain and aspects of its poverty for her current events. Members voted to increase the trust fund to $1,300 and to ask

Mrs. M. H. Bell, local bank manager, to speak to the branch in December when he will advise as to the best type of investment bond to which this sum can be applied. The fund has been established for purposes to help with a proposed community hall.

There were 28 present and Mrs. Gordon Telley became a new member. Mrs. Roy Hollinshead convened the program with excellent results. The report of the area convention was given by Mrs. T. L. Williams.

Aurora branch will hold its November meeting on Thursday evening, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m. in the United church, west room. Roll call, "Characteristics of a good citizen." Program in charge of Mrs. Pelt, convener of citizenship and education.

Hostesses: Mrs. King, Mrs. Middy, Mrs. G. Thompson and Mrs. A. M. Clarke. The W.I. bazaar and tea was held on Saturday, Nov. 15, in the Oddfellows' hall, at which time approximately $280 was realized. The bazaar was opened by the president, Mrs. R. Jennings, and our district president, Mrs. R. Baycroft.

Mrs. H. Anderson did a splendid job as convener of the bazaar, along with her co-conveners. There were Mrs. A. Cook, Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. E. Foster, Mrs. Hamer, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. G. Walker, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. L. Evans, Mrs. J. Brooks, Mrs. Klees and Mrs. Graham.

Lakeside branch will hold its meeting Tuesday, Nov. 26, at 8 p.m. in Keswick Memorial Hall. Roll call, a proverb. Guest in-

York Nurses Are Familiarized With Defence Preparation Work

York County Nurses' study course in treatment of victims of "A.B.C. Warfare", (atomic, biological and chemical war), gave York nurses an idea of the vast amount of preparatory work needed if and when an enemy starts attack.

The meeting at Newmarket agricultural office last week (the fourth of the course) heard Miss Dix, Toronto General hospital, give a talk on nursing care for trauma, shock and burns cases. A film shown gave a vivid idea of "first aid on the spot" by showing doctors and nurses giving actual aid at a disaster.

A third part of the program was a skit put on by Nurses June Hallowell, Marg Taylor, Bernice Eades, Margaret Marshall, Kathleen Keen, Dorothy Dix and Irene Curtin, to show the "Nursing Problem in Mass Disaster" with Miss Austin in charge.

Miss Dix, in her talk of Trauma, spoke of how to recognize and institute the treatment for abdominal wounds, chest injuries, skull fracture, broken arms, legs, vertebrae. She pointed out that care should be started on a selective basis, so that most seriously injured will be given attention first and evacuated earliest.

She pointed out the great need will be for blood plasma and also whole blood for shock and haemorrhage cases. Burns cases, which will be the great majority, will be among the first priority for treatment. Types of dressing which will be used were displayed.

Miss Austin, who introduced the skit and spoke on nursing problems to come with mass disaster, showed how simple cardboard boxes and newspapers could be utilized for waste ma-

LISTENING

I seem to have been doing an uncommon amount of listening lately. Dorothy Bowman, at the Bogartown W.I. meeting, Rev. Henry Cotton at the Newmarket W.A. meeting, Don Henshaw at the W.I. conference at the Royal York, Toronto, and Rev. G. Lynd at the Ladies Aid 50th anniversary luncheon at Wesley United church, Vancor.

Each of these talks, dissimilar as they were in content and presentation had, running through it like the principal theme in a musical composition, a strain of hopefulness, a sort of sensing of the underlying good in humanity.

Mrs. Bowman told us of the work being done to help handicapped children; the means used to bring light into darkened lives, a measure of strength into useless limbs; interests and simple pleasures into lives hitherto slowly atrophying from lack of exercise.

She told us of her travels to find means to help her own child and through her countless other children deprived of childhood's rightful joys. She told of the work done by a group in Toronto and of her own work in Newmarket.

In reply to a question as to success, Mrs. Bowman said that in nearly all cases, especially where parents were co-operative, there was gratifying success. She told us that where it was possible to intelligently care for a child of this type in the home, there was more chance for success than in an institution. Mrs. Bowman certainly opened up new vistas on what is and can be done for these afflicted little ones.

It was very delightful to meet Rev. and Mrs. Henry Cotton on November 4 when Mr. Cotton talked to the Trinity United church W.A. about his trip to England.

Mr. Cotton is a man who, like Abon Ben Adhem, loves his fellowman and manages to find contacts with every kind from bootblacks to bookies and from lords to lecturers. This being

ELMHURST BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Len Burch and Jimmy called on Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pollock on Sunday.

Mrs. Lloyd Pollock was a delegate at the Womens Institute convention last week at the Royal York.

Mr. Wesley Hayes and Mr. Clarence Pollock attended the milk pelling demonstration at Barrie.

Dianne Matt has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Selby Sedore.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Deavitt, Ravenshoe, and their two children Pat and Jimmy had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hayes on Sunday.

A baby clinic at St. Pauls church Miami Beach will be held Nov. 25.

so, he went down past eternalis and came to the beliefs and fundamentals on which we build.

Mr. Cotton told us that the British people do not talk, eat and sleep war as we do on this side of the Atlantic. They have been in the forefront in two world wars, the guardians of our freedom. They know that should war come again, again they will be in the forefront, but in the meantime they make what use they can of the peace.

One man, in speaking to Mr. Cotton, said "You will find a great difference here in regard to poverty; there are no really poor."

Regarding food, beef is high priced and the ration is small, but fowl, fish, rabbits and cooked meats and sometimes mutton from New Zealand or Australia are plentiful. Eggs are a luxury too and fats are not plentiful, but Mr. Cotton said that he and Mrs. Cotton seemed to be eating all the time, five meals a day.

The Cottons were treated to almost continual rain, one exception being on a visit to a military cemetery where, after some difficulty, they located the grave of a son of a parishioner of Mr. Cotton's and were able to take back facts to the mother, photographs and heather from the young soldier's grave and those of his friends.

As nearly everyone who reads this column knows Mr. Cotton, they will appreciate this episode. Rev. Mr. Cotton rushed into a barber shop on his way to catch a train and asked "Can you cut my hair in 20 minutes?" The barber said he could and Mr. Cotton asked next, "Will I need to take off my collar?"

"Oh, no," said the man, "You don't even need to take off your hat!"

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton were certainly watched over by a special providence for they were on the station platform at Harrow the day before the terrible tragedy there; they were prevented from visiting the town that was swept away by the flood waters only by the inability of a friend to go with them at that particular time.

They came home on the tail end of a hurricane but all these failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the travellers who had revisited old and well loved places. They walked along glorious Princess St. in Edinburgh and heard a Scottish verger roar at Lady Beveridge not to be bawling in the Lord's house on the Lord's day. As he was doing the bawling out, it seemed a bit ironic but probably St. Giles' Cathedral has often, in the long past, echoed to other bawlings out.

Mrs. Seldon told us that there was to be no formal vote of thanks to Mr. Cotton, but each was to thank him in their own way and I'm sure everyone did. I will have to leave the other two events till next week.

CROUCH-PETERSON

In a setting of mums and ferns in the Trinity United church, the marriage was solemnized by Rev. M. J. Aiken, of Ada Effie Peterson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peterson and William Harvey Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crouch.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Jack Peterson. She chose an original gown of white satin, featuring portfolio neckline with net and velvet trim, long fitted sleeves and full skirt. Her coronation veil with seeded pearl trim fell gracefully to the floor. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and red roses. Her attendant was Miss Erle Jones, maid of honor, gowned in Nile green net over taffeta, with matching headdress who carried a corsage of bronze mums. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Donna Stickwood and Nanetta Cook were similarly gowned in mauve and yellow net over taffeta, with matching headdresses and carried nosegays of yellow and white mums.

Sharon Stickwood, niece of the bride, as flower girl, looked charming in mauve net over taffeta, with matching headdress and she carried a mixed basket of flowers.

Mr. Jack Watson sang "I love you truly" and "I'll walk beside you."

Mr. Herb Crouch was groomsmen; ushers were Messrs. Bob Dale, Freeman Crouch.

The reception was held at the Legion hall, where 125 guests were present. The bride's sister, Mrs. George McCammond received in a dress of plum crepe and wore a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother assisted wearing navy blue crepe and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling the bride chose a teal blue suit, with pink accessories and a corsage of rose buds. After a trip to Ottawa and northern points the happy couple will reside in Newmarket.

Guests came from Orangeville, Oshawa, Port Perry, Five Rivers and Toronto.

BLACKMORE-CREW

A quiet wedding was solemnized in King City United church, by Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 15, at 4:30 o'clock, when Jean Marjorie Crew, Toronto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Crew, Bristol, England, exchanged vows with William James Blackmore, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blackmore, also of Bristol.

Given in marriage by Mr. Fred Dent of King City, the young bride was lovely in a ballerina gown of white chantilly lace over white satin, made with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves trimmed with matching buttons. The full skirt had a scalloped edge and her headpiece was a lace and satin Juliet cap, with shoulder-length tulle veil.

She wore white nylon gloves and carried a white Bible adorned with a corsage of small white chrysanthemums and pink carnation petals with satin streamers. Her costume jewellery was a rhinestone necklace and matching ear rings, the gift of her parents.

Miss Freda Dent as bridesmaid chose bronze taffeta styled with a deep yoke of ecru chantilly lace and short sleeves with lace trim. The skirt was full and her jewellery was rhinestone.

PASS SWIM TESTS

Guides from the Newmarket Girl Guide company were guests of the Mermald Swim club at the Oakwood Collegiate tank, Toronto, on Thursday, Nov. 13, when 12 guides tried their swimmer's badge. Successful were Shirley Bearre, Betty McArthur and Nina Christie.

The outing was arranged through the courtesy of Dr. Erskine, head of the Mermald's club. Miss Ingles, swimming instructor, volunteered her services to conduct the tests. The guides were accompanied by their captain, Mrs. Earlby Thompson.

Catholic Women Meet

The November meeting of the Catholic Women's League in Newmarket was attended by members of Aurora Catholic Women's League. Mrs. Fee presented the guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. J. Howarth of the Archdiocesan Council of the C. W. L.

Mrs. Howarth stressed the importance of the spiritual duties and obligations of the C.W.L. members. Duties, she said, are sometimes neglected in the rush and hurry of the world of today. A well-conducted meeting, based on parliamentary procedure, said Mrs. Howarth, means much in time and efficiency.

Mrs. Howarth was given a vote of thanks by Mrs. E. Griffin, who spoke for all members in hoping to hear Mrs. Howarth again in the near future.

Miss Marguerite Murphy, president of the Aurora C.W.L., thanked Mrs. Howarth and the Newmarket club on behalf of the Aurora members.

Future plans of the Newmarket C.W.L. include a euchre party on November 28, and a Christmas party and pot luck supper for the members on December 8. Tentative plans were made for a communion breakfast for the Holy Name members in December.

After the meeting the members had the pleasure of personally meeting and talking with Mrs. Howarth while enjoying a delightful lunch.

Bell Telephone

The first advice of an impending air attack would be received at the civil defence control centre over special communication facilities, which now provide a nation-wide attack warning system to selected key point cities. At the civil defence control centre an operator would dial the color of the alarm.

The signal would immediately flash through a network of telephone exchanges and cables to the "Bell and Lights" signal boxes at all the warning points. In each signal box a bell sounds a distinctive code ring for the degree of the alert and a light flashes on and off behind a glass of appropriate color.

A single control point can be connected through several telephone offices to any number of warning points, as in the metropolitan area of a large city, or even in an intercity network. But the equipment can be used just as efficiently for small networks, such as in a small city or an industrial plant.

The "Bell and Lights" network can be used to control the sirens of a public air raid warning system, merely through the addition of a special circuit.

The sirens would sound on the "red alert", and on the all-clear "white alert" at the same time as the signal registered on the alarm boxes.

In order to prevent unnecessary disturbances, the "yellow" signal or confidential warning would register only on alarm boxes authorized to receive it. This signal would not sound the public sirens and a "white" signal or all-clear sent after a "yellow" alert also would not sound the sirens.

The system would be relatively free from the danger of breakdown, as it would not be dependent on the commercial power supply for operation as telephone offices are equipped with emergency power supplies. Most of the wiring is underground and, therefore, relatively safe. Also, the system, like telephone equipment, would be under continual self test so a breakdown would register immediately in the telephone office.

Mrs. A. Irwin, Charlotte St., fell last week and broke her hip. She is convalescing in York County hospital.

TEA AND BAZAAR AT TRINITY CHURCH TOMORROW 2.30 P.M.

Come and bring your friends to the annual autumn tea and bazaar of the Evangeline auxiliary, W.M.S., Trinity United church, Newmarket. It will be held tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 21.

The guests will be received by Mrs. W. E. Walton, Mrs. A. King, Mrs. M. J. Aiken and Mrs. S. King from 2.30 to 5 in the afternoon. Plans have been made to have a supervised nursery for the pre-school children.

The bazaar and tea rooms will be artistically decorated with autumn colors and hints of Christmas. There will be booths displaying home baking, candy, fancy work, novelties and a delicatessen table. An added attraction this year is the sale of used books in good condition for both children and adults.

RECTOR AT SUTTON

The special speaker at the annual public meeting of the Newmarket Bible Society, Sunday evening last, was the Rev. Leonard F. Geary.

Mr. Geary, who only recently returned with his wife and family from strife-torn Egypt, has been appointed as the rector of Georgina parish. His two charges will be St. James' church, Sutton, and St. George's church, Sibbald's Point.

The congregations of both churches had a get-together at Sutton one night last week and "showered" the Gearys with useful articles.

AUTHOR TO SPEAK TO HOME SCHOOL

Marie McPhedran, Toronto, author of three children's books, will be the guest speaker at the Newmarket Home and School association meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 25. It will be held in the Stuart Scott school beginning at 8 p.m.

Mrs. McPhedran will speak on children's reading. There will be a display of children's books and two pupils of Mrs. George Blackwell will present piano solos.

Light refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and teachers, as well as the general public, to attend this meeting.

KING
Fallen Are Remembered
 The Armistice banquet at King City was a memorable occasion. On Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, fallen comrades of two wars were solemnly remembered. The banquet was provided by the ladies' auxiliary of King Legion, 438.

"There is no living glory connected with war. The veteran who is worthy of the heritage of freedom that has been won by sacrifice, must be ready to accept the responsibility of the future," declared Squadron Leader John G. Perry, D.F.C., D.S.O., ace flier of a famous Pathfinder squadron, World War II, when he proposed the toast to the fallen. Sqdn. Ldr. Perry, Maple, was introduced by chairman D. M. Findlay, Legion secretary, after the toast to the Queen was proposed by Robert

Walker, first vice-president. The guest speaker, Reeve Elton Armstrong, was introduced by Legion president, Joseph McGrath. Mr. Armstrong said he well remembered the day when Armistice was declared. "The boys looked forward to better years ahead," he said. Paying tribute to those who did not come back, he suggested that all veterans join the municipality of the township of King in establishing a cairn bearing the names of those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

Mr. Findlay called for a vote of thanks in appreciation of the auxiliary. Mrs. Arthur Fleet, president, replied.

About 65 veterans and companions and visitors enjoyed the full course turkey supper held in the basement of the United church.

Afterwards a dance was held in McDonald and Wells' hall. Narrowly Misses Injury
 Mr. W. J. Hiltz, 85, of King

City, had a very narrow escape from injury when his car went out of control and was hit by two southbound sand trucks, three miles south of Maple on the fourth concession of Vaughan, late Thursday afternoon, Nov. 13.

Police said he was driving north just behind Arthur Peck, King, when Mr. Peck slowed down on the approach of the trucks. When Mr. Hiltz applied his brakes to allow the first truck to get into line, his front wheel locked, causing him to collide with the side of the truck, driven by Leonard Sears, 24, of Castlefield Rd., Toronto.

The impact damaged the front fender and broke the wheel of the car. When the second truck, driven by Eldon Kyle, aged 17, of Toronto, which was directly behind the Sears' truck, swung out to miss the car, it hit the back fender. The Hiltz car went 15 feet off the highway into the ditch, landing near a fence on the west side of the road at the Downey farm.

Constable Wm. Maybury and Chief Constable Bone, Vaughan township police, investigated.

Fortunately for Mr. Hiltz, he was only shaken up by the experience. Damage to his car was extensive.

RAVENSHOE
 The W.M.S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Irvine Rose Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 8 p.m. Roll call to be answered with a scripture verse starting with the letter "M". Mrs. E. Breen will be in charge of the study book. Please note the change of place. Mrs. Irvine Rose is attending the Royal Winter Fair as a guest of the Women's Institute branch.

The members and leaders of the 4-H club were guests of Down Town Toronto Kiwanis club on Wednesday to a luncheon at the Royal York hotel and attended the winter fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Blizard are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blizard, Newmarket.

Mount Albert News

Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder, Paul and Ricky spent the weekend with relatives at Kitchener. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Mainprize and family attended a birthday party last week at the home of Mrs. Mainprize's sister, Mrs. A. C. Ashforth, in Toronto for their mother, Mrs. H. Ross, who celebrated her 80th birthday last Wednesday.

The last of the hunters returned on Saturday. Some got bears along with a few deer but others were less lucky.

Mrs. W. H. Shields is spending a few weeks in Toronto at the home of Dr. Harry Shields. If you have good used clothing or bedding you can spare, the need is still great for the church's overseas relief and you may leave it at Theaker's store where it will be packed for shipment.

The Cheerio club will hold its annual bazaar in the church on Saturday, Dec. 6, in the afternoon when everyone will get a chance to pick up some lovely Christmas gifts, also home-made baking, candy.

Next Sunday evening the young people of the United church will hold evening service at 7:30 o'clock, to which all are invited. Jack Locke will be in charge of the service and there will be a soloist to assist a young people's choir.

The C.G.I.E. girls held a basking sale on Saturday at Thompson's store and realized $35 which they will donate to the United church training school fund.

UNION STREET

A successful euchre was held at Sharon Hall Thursday evening by the Union Street W.I. Winners were: ladies' first, Mrs. Leslie Wright; second, Mrs. Tommy Miller; gent's first, Elmer Johnston, second, Mrs. Norman Rogers; consolation, Mrs. Balsdon and Percy James. The lucky draw for the blanket was won by Mrs. Titus Peregrine.

Several farm properties have been sold recently. Mr. Jackson, Agincourt, has purchased the Evans farm, formerly occupied by Eric Denham, and Mr. Victor Johnson, Newmarket, has bought the farm now occupied by Kenneth Rogers.

Mr. Wm. McGill has sold his farm to Mr. Rogers and has bought 50 acres from Mrs. Byron Cunningham. A new home is being built on this property.

KETTLEBY

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, Oakwood, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blackford.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter, Laskay.

Misses Marjorie and Jean Emmett, Islington, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Geert Tienkamp. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett spent Sunday there as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Geert Rendinger and John, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Tienkamp spent Sunday at Dairyville.

Mr. Wm. and John Tienkamp returned home Sunday after spending two weeks hunting up north.

Mrs. Lena Gower, Toronto, spent last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webster.

Mrs. Elwood Barradell celebrated her 87th birthday on Nov. 18 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Webster. All members of her family were present for the occasion.

ROYAL CLOSEUP

This closeup study of Queen Elizabeth II, was made as she rode in the Irish state coach after having delivered her first speech from the throne, the first queen to do so since 1880, traditionally opening a new session of parliament, in the House of Lords in London. Faltering only once, as she expressed her gratitude for sympathy shown her after her father's death, Elizabeth read from her throne with easy assurance the speech written for her by the Churchill government, outlining its legislative program and pledged the same devotion to duty as was shown by her late father.

ELMHURST BEACH

Mr. Glen Sedore is at home convalescing after an operation. Best wishes from all the friends and neighbors for a speedy recovery.

Recent visitors at the residence of Mr. W. H. Clifton were his daughter, Mrs. J. Harris and Mr. Harris and their three children, Marylin, David and John, Port Credit.

Mr. C. H. Perkins, Nipissing, is spending the winter with his friend, W. H. Clifton.

MOUNT ZION

Mrs. Henry Days entertained the ladies of the W.M.S. last Thursday.

Mrs. John Kellington is spending a few days with Mrs. Stan Shanks.

Mr. Jimmy Bertolin had the misfortune to fall while plastering and cracked several of his ribs. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Harry Cooper spent the weekend at home.

Sunday services are Sunday School at 10 a.m., worship at 11 a.m. Young peoples meeting is on Friday evening at 8 p.m.

AT ROYAL YORK

Area Institute Convention Puts Stress On Citizenship

"In the past 50 years since Women's Institutes have grown up, there has been a complete emancipation of women with their advent into public and national life," M. Sybil Bennett, Q.C., Georgetown, told the 50th convention of Central Ontario Women's Institute, held at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, Nov. 5, 6, 7.

Contrasting the first W.I. convention at Guelph, Mrs. J. C. Snider, Weston, area chairman, said at first there were 24 Institutes and 64 delegates. Now there are 1,491 branches with a membership of 45,859. A delegation of 1,250 at the 1952 convention responded to the theme, "Women as Citizens in a Changing World".

Miss Anna P. Lewis, director of Ontario W.I.s, stressed the opportunity of strengthening universal peace, those pathways that stretch between neighbors' homes in the community and in the world. As branches prepare for the Triennial Conference of Associated Country Women of the World, August, 1953, at Toronto, their study is personal responsibility in citizenship.

At the general conference of the convention, conducted by Mrs. J. E. Houck, Brampton, emphasis was placed on the Institute branch as a service organization to home and country. The spirit of good citizenship will be developed through friendliness and understanding of the new Canadian in our midst. When Mayor Allan Lamport of Toronto opened the convention and extended a civic welcome to delegates he recognized the fundamental principles of the organization as bulwarks of citizenship and national life.

Pointing to the large sphere in which women play an important part, Miss Bennett said W.I. members can go further than serve on school boards, or become members of parliament; they are important as jurors and can press for women as ambassadors to other countries. Elsie McGill, Toronto, consulting engineer, said women are well equipped to serve on jury. In what surer way can the responsible citizen safeguard the liberty, life and property of the individual than by taking an active part in the administration of justice? She warned against evading jury duty.

Mr. W. H. Cranston, publisher of the Midland Free Press, and an exponent of preserving the history of Canada, stressed more interest in this country's past. Failure to realize this asset has come from a misconception of the place of history in our educational system. He advocated that historical facts be made as interesting as the fairy tale. He disagreed with a system that would have one history book for 10 provinces. "I would have 500," he said.

Don Henshaw spoke on "Horizons Unlimited", stressing concentration on ways of keeping young Canada and agricultural young people on the farms. Canadians should be proud to boast of Canada.

John Fisher, C.B.C.'s commentator, urged women to "pitch in and make a better democracy." It needs their faith, their belief in beauty and simplicity. Democracy needs more women in public office, he said.

Other highlights of the convention were the pageantry of costumes typical of the periods of the W.I. over the past 50 years. Miss Ethel Chapman of the W.I. staff was author of the historical skit when 18 districts presented the display. Mrs. Williams represented Centre York district in the scene.

The demonstration of several junior Institute branches was a revelation of what these young women can accomplish, and a source of inspiration to senior branches which have not yet sponsored this important work.

The convention produced local talent; Mrs. Brownlee, Woodbridge, was a violinist and the two children of Mrs. Clarence Graham of Woodbridge, sang. Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Kearney were pianists during the sessions. Miss Lois Marshall, Toronto, was luncheon soloist.

Extinguishers Quell Fire

The prompt action of Bruce Baker, Drinkwater Motors, brought a fire under control that broke out in the roof of Ross Walker's house, in King City last Friday forenoon. Using the Drinkwater fire extinguisher, Mr. Baker and other employees quelled the blaze in the tinder dry wood shingles which burned a two-foot square hole in the roof of a clothes closet and part of a bedroom.

Pete Glass, King City, deputy fire chief, used the Walker hose to soak the roof. When the Aurora fire department arrived the fire was out. It is believed the blaze was started by a spark from the chimney when wood was being used in the fireplace of the Walker home. The Walkers were unaware the house was afire until Mr. James Patton, a neighbor, notified them. Mr. Patton was on the street when he saw the blaze.

Damage was estimated at $600. There was insurance. Mr. Walker said he had been planning to put on asphalt roofing as the 30-year-old shingles were dried out. New roofing is being put on this week.

King City Nominations

Public notices can be seen in the village of King City, announcing the nomination meeting for village trustees which will be held in the Masonic hall, on Friday, Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. Should more than three nominees qualify for office, an election will be held on Monday, Dec. 1, from the hours of 9:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Masonic hall. A. E. Kelley has been named poll clerk and Andrew McClure, returning officer.

Every civic-minded taxpayer in the village should endeavor to attend the nomination meeting. Present trustees are Crawford Wells, William Carson and Donald M. Findlay.

Burial of Mrs. Walter Folliott, Kettleby, was made in King cemetery on November 13. She was the former Amy Huff, and with her husband, had lived near Kettleby for a number of years. The funeral service was held at Thompson's funeral parlors, Aurora. The only immediate survivor is the husband.

Mr. Arthur Green was taken to Sunnybrook hospital on Sunday again. He had only left the hospital about two weeks ago where he had been ill for six weeks.

Young Singer at Church

Ralph Tiffin, aged 11, a singer in St. Paul's Anglican church choir, Toronto, was guest soloist at King United church on Sunday evening. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tiffin and a brother of Mrs. Adam Davidson.

Harry McClement

Friends of Harry McClement, Minico, regret to learn of his death on Thursday, Nov. 13. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McClement, King, and was raised and educated here. Mr. McClement, 65, was retired as a yardman of the Canadian National Railway at Toronto. Surviving are his wife, ment of Ontario, was passed by the convention. Also sustained was a request to the government that methods of tendering for mail routes should be altered whereby a man should be able to earn a wage sufficient to keep himself and his family. Mansfield W.I. in North Dufferin district proposed the resolution.

Snowball's resolution urging Institutes to make a weed and fence row clean-up campaign next year in co-operation with municipal councils and weed inspectors, was sustained. These mentioned are only a few of the resolutions which were approved.

Zephyr News

Mrs. Bearden received a wire last Sunday from the United States paratroop department of the army in North Carolina, telling her of a tragic accident which befell her 20 year old son. While taking a jump his parachute failed to open properly, dropping him 900 feet, breaking both legs, one of which had to be amputated later. He received other serious injuries. If the parachute hadn't opened partially he would have been instantly killed. The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bearden and family.

The W.I. meeting was held in the community hall on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Wm. Rynard was hostess. Mrs. C. Lunney and Mrs. M. McNelly had charge of the program.

The hunters have all returned but failed to bring many deer back with them.

ANSNORVELD

Mr. and Mrs. A. Havinga spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. Klemm, Toronto.

Mr. B. DeJong, Hamilton, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Blomold.

Rev. J. Harper, Grandville, U.S.A., conducted the services at the Christian Reformed church here on Sunday.

The community was shocked at the sudden passing of Mr. K. Miedema and extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss Eva Lockie is visiting her cousins, Miss M. Blair and Mr. Jas. Blair, Greenbank.

The members of the United church W.A. are invited to be guests of the Ashworth W.A. and will provide the program on Tuesday, Nov. 25.

The United church W.M.S. bazaar and supper will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 5, commencing about 5:30. The articles are to be sold after the supper.

The United church Sunday school concert and supper will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 19, in the Sunday school room.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Neilson moved to Sharon last Saturday.

Miss Ada Squires, Reg.N., Hamilton General hospital, spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. A. Smith.

The W.M.S. of the United church sent a large bale of good used clothing, also three new quilts to the headquarters of the United church clothing depot, Toronto. The bale is to be sent to Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, Toronto, visited Miss Jeannie Murray on Saturday last.

The Misses Laura and Reta Horner, Toronto and Hamilton respectively, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Walker.

Mr. Wm. Barker, 4th con., is having a sale of cattle on Friday, Nov. 21.

PINE ORCHARD

Congratulations to Misses Miriam Boake and Joan Preston on being awarded the Whitechurch township proficiency prize at N.H.S.

The Community club will meet at the school on Friday evening, Nov. 28, at 8 o'clock. Ross Armitage has returned home after six weeks in Sunnybrook hospital, Toronto.

Union church service each Sunday is at 2:30 p.m. and Sunday school at 1:30 p.m.

AIKING AN ARIA to an audience of hundreds of thousands would have been beyond the wildest dreams of ambitious young singers a few years ago. Now, every Sunday night, the radio program "C-I-L Singing Stars of Tomorrow" offers this thrilling experience to two young Canadians... and allows them to compete for C-I-L musical awards worth over $3,000.

CHAMPION MATERIAL for skiers is light, warm nylon. Now under way, C-I-L's new plant at Maitland, Ont., will make Canada self-sufficient in all chemicals needed to make this wonder fabric. Textile manufacturers will get double the quantity they now receive.

BEAUTY AT THE BASIN! Home-makers find that a C-I-L Cellulose Sponge is a beauty for so many uses — and wonderfully soft and long-lasting, too. Available now in attractive colours — blue, green, coral, yellow and natural.

Did you know?

About 600 applicants are auditioned each season before the 44 young singers are chosen to appear on "C-I-L Singing Stars of Tomorrow?" Audition teams tour the country from coast to coast giving everyone an equal opportunity to be heard by experts.

Nature Crafts Theme

A treat is in store for Kingcrafters at the monthly meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 2.15, at the home of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, Drynck Farms, Yonge St., when Mrs. Norman L. Brown, Richmond Hill, an amateur naturalist, will demonstrate how nature crafts can be taught to children. She will bring samples found in the woods that are used for making button jewelry and Christmas cards. She is connected with the geology and mineralogy department of the Royal Ontario Museum. At this meeting a sale of craft work done by Kingcrafters will be held among members.

The date for the annual Christmas concert, sponsored by the congregations of Strange, Eversley and Ninth Line Presbyterian charge is set for Monday, Dec. 22 at Strange church. Children and young people connected with Sunday schools of the three churches will take part.

Laskay United church Sunday school held a social evening at the church on Friday evening. Mr. James Agar, Vaughan, showed movies of Iceland, New Zealand, Scotland and also a religious subject. He surprised the group when he produced a record made on the singing which had been sung by the gathering and also one sung by Norma Jane Hatley, Judy Scott, Linda Cairns and Lyla Anne Forester.

Mrs. T. L. Williams, district vice-president, spoke to St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S. at the home of Mrs. Johnston Egan, 8th line, on Nov. 12, when nine members of St. Paul's 9th line were guests.

Readings were given by Mrs. John Boak and Mrs. Herman Cairns, West King, and by Mrs. Bill Willoughby of Strange. The local president, Mrs. C. A. Black, who chaired the meeting, reviewed a chapter of the study book, describing mission work in British Guiana. Mrs. K. Porte gave the scripture and Rev. D. C. Wotherspoon made the opening prayer.

Visits Bermuda
Mrs. John T. Jones, 5th line, with her daughter, Yvonne and friend, Miss Mary Kubasta, Cleveland, recently enjoyed a two weeks' holiday on the islands of Bermuda. Miss Jones is secretary to the T.C.A. manager at Cleveland.

"It was a wonderful holiday," Mrs. Jones relates, but she was amazed at the shortage of water for domestic and commercial consumption. Miss Jones and her friend brought Mrs. Jones back home after they arrived at Malton on Nov. 9 and then they motored back to Cleveland the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jorgensen and their sons, Carsten and Willy, have taken an apartment in Mrs. Arthur Wellesley's house. The boys are attending King school.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris McKinnon and their children, Susan, aged two, and Cathy, five months, have taken an apartment at Wilson and Dufferin St. W.I. Display

"Hands Across the World", a display created by Edgeley W.I., was seen at the 50th central W.I. convention at the Royal York hotel by over 1,200 delegates. Small dolls were dressed in national costumes of various countries and the route of transportation from the east coast to Edgeley farm lands was pictured. The purpose of the project is to acquaint women with the A.C.W.W. conference to be held in Toronto next August. The exhibit was first seen at Woodbridge fair, and is likely to be displayed at the world conference.

Miss Ruth Hamilton, Sutton, is operating at King telephone exchange during the absence of Mrs. Gladys Rischborough.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Willoughby and Paul were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wamaker, Seagrave, on Sunday.

Mrs. D. M. Ross had the misfortune to fracture a rib when she fell down four cellar steps last week. Some months ago she had fractured ribs when she stepped into an open furnace register.

An application submitted by Miss Freda Dent to the nurses' training school at Toronto Western hospital has been accepted. Her training will commence early next fall. Freda will graduate from Aurora high school in 1953.

Laskay W.I. euchre held in the Institute hall, Nov. 13, was a good beginning for the season, when 9 1-2 tables enjoyed the contest. In the ladies' section, Mrs. Chas. Hatley won the high score; Mrs. Marshall McMurchy, second and Mrs. C. A. Black, the consolation and the lucky prize. These were a cake of soap and a pound of butter. Percy Leatherdale, Walter Monkman and H. E. Ross took the men's prizes. The next euchre will be held on Nov. 27, and conveners are chosen from the W. I. membership in alphabetical order. The jackpot for the forthcoming bingo, sponsored by the ladies' auxiliary of King Legion 438, stands at $51 for the next bingo on Wednesday, Nov. 26.

Mrs. Harry Edwards has made a rapid recovery from a recent surgical operation at the Toronto General hospital, having returned to her home looking exceptionally well. Mr. Edwards leaves for Montreal tonight and will board the Empress of France for England Friday morning. It is 39 years since Mr. Edwards paid his last visit to England. Mr. Edwards will arrive at Liverpool, on Nov. 29 and after Christmas and New Years with his relatives, will leave England on January 29. While there, he will be visiting with Robert Bessant, who returned to England almost three years ago, after many years at Eaton Hall Farm, King.

Mr. Bessant lives with a sister at Winsor Woodlands, Southampton, not far from Cambridge. Mr. Edwards hopes to see some of the old members of his famous Hampstead Cricket Club in which he was a professional player and umpire, before he came to Canada with his wife in 1910.

Mrs. Wilson and her little son, Craig, Toronto, spent a few days with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kelley over the weekend.

Mrs. John Moore, Richmond Hill, told interesting facts about her trip to Scotland this summer, to Laskay W.I., at the home of Mrs. Percy Leatherdale, Nov. 11. It was 23 years since she had visited her home town of Dunfermline, the "Town of the Crooked River", where famous looms wove Queen Elizabeth's wedding dress.

Mrs. Moore weaves beautiful tartans. She praised the health scheme in Scotland. She had injured a finger before she left Canadian shores and due to infection which set in later she was under the care of the health scheme for treatment. A prescription costs a shilling and penicillin was free.

Mrs. Lorne Scott, the speaker's daughter, touched on the motto, "A promise made is a debt unpaid."

Mrs. Norman Etheridge reviewed what had taken place at the Central Area W.I. convention. The demonstrations given by the Junior Institute branches were very surprising and well done.

In answer to the roll call, Laskay members displayed pieces of antique jewellery handed down in their families. Some dated back a century. It was decided to continue with the W.I. euchre parties, with Nov. 27, the next date.

SHARON

Miss Margaret Lepard, Toronto, spent a few days with Mrs. M. E. Kiteley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall, Mr. Arthur Hall, Miss Elda Hall and friend visited Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood at Whitby on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Creswick, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw, Steele's Corners, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Flick and children, Lansing, visited Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Neuroth on Sunday. Miss Ila Rose spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jagger Oldham at Hartman.

Miss May Stevens, Toronto, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stevens.
